STATE OF INDIANA,
OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE,
INDIANAPOLIS, July 25, 1895. }

In accordance with the requirements of an act, approved February 3, 1853, (1st G. & H., p. 538), the several administrative officers of the State, and the Trustees and Superintendents of the Benevolent, Reformatory and Educational Institutions thereof, have submitted to the Governor, and filed in the Executive Department the reports required of them for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1894, and the calendar year ending December 31, 1894, respectively, which have been entered of record in the order of their reception, and delivered to the Secretary of State for publication under the order of the Board of Commissioners of Public Printing and Binding.

One thousand copies of reports are now bound in two volumes, and issued to the officers and persons designated by law to receive them. The usual number of copies of each report have also been bound in pamphlet form, and delivered to the responsible officer or superintendent of each Institution for distribution in such manner as they may deem for the best interests of the State.

BIENNIAL REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

STATE OF INDIANA, }
OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE. }

HON. CLAUDE MATTHEWS, Governor:

SIR—I have the honor to submit herewith the biennial report of this office. It covers the period from October 31, 1892, to October 31, 1894, and sets forth in detail the financial and other business transactions of this department.

There is also embodied in this report other statistics and facts in relation to the State which I consider of such general interest and value as to warrant their publication.

The law regulating the fee charged by the State for charters granted to corporations, passed by the Fifty-seventh General Assembly in 1891, has not only been a source of considerable revenue to the State, but has met with favor generally and especially by the corporations themselves. It has had a tendency to prevent the formation of corporations for purely speculative purposes, and the practice of incorporating with an authorized capital stock largely in excess of the actual operating capital. The amount of money collected from this source and paid into the Treasury in the last two years is seventy-six thousand four hundred and eighty-seven dollars and twenty-one cents.

I submit herewith also the report of the Bureau of the Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, of which Mr. Christian H. Stein is Clerk.* Notwithstanding the largely increased demands on the appropriation for this department, as a result of the natural growth of the business of the various State offices and the additional State institutions, Mr. Stein, by the most careful economy and fidelity in this responsible position, has made the fund meet all requirements with a balance to spare. He has systematized the work and records of the office so that the condition of the department is shown at a glance. Mr. Stein has been courteous and painstaking, and his efficiency as shown by his management can not be too highly commended.

The printing of the reports of the Supreme and Appellate Courts is now done through this department. The 134th and 135th volumes of the Supreme Court Reports and the 6th and 7th volumes of the Appellate Court Reports have been printed under the new law passed by the Legislature of 1891. These reports speak for themselves as to appearance, workmanship and material as well as to accuracy, and justify the wisdom of the law providing for the publication of the reports in this manner and the reduction in price to one dollar and fifty cents a volume to residents of the State and two dollars and fifty cents a volume to non-residents.

I would respectfully suggest to the Legislature—

1. Corporations hereafter formed should be required to record the certificates of incorporation issued by this office, in the offices of the Recorders of the counties in which the home offices of such corporations are located.

2. Notaries Public and Justices of the Peace should be required to file in the office of Secretary of State the certificate of the County Clerk that they have qualified according to law.

3. Owing to a largely increased demand for the Acts of the Legislature, provision should be made for the printing and distribution of a greater number than heretofore. The increased demand shows a greater interest of the people in the legislation of our State. They should be supplied with more copies of the Acts that they may know more of the laws by which they are governed, and of the actions of their representatives.

4. A more definite law should be enacted regulating the admission and operations of foreign corporations doing business in this State. In some instances home corporations are placed at a manifest disadvantage as compared with those from other States. In many States foreign corporations are required, at least, to file in the office of the Secretary of State a copy of their charter of incorporation, and in some a duly certified and authenticated copy of the law under which organized.

5. As there yet remain many unsold copies of the Revised Statutes of 1881, I think it will be wise economy to reduce the price of the same. It will hardly be possible to dispose of those on hand at the present price before another revision is necessary, as one is now badly needed.

Most respectfully submitted,

W. R. MYERS,

Biennial Report of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery for Two Years, November 1, 1894, Including Contract of Carlon & Hollenbeck for Printing and Binding Court Reports.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR, }
August 29, 1893. }

The Printing Board met in the above office with all the members present. The Clerk submitted a copy of an advertisement asking for bids for doing the State printing, binding and furnishing the stationery for the State of Indiana for the two (2) years beginning November 1, 1893. After some few minor changes were made in the advertisement, the Board ordered the same published two (2) times in each of the following papers, to wit: Indianapolis Daily News, Daily Journal, and Daily Sentinel.

Also, upon motion, which was carried, the Clerk was instructed to prepare specifications and have the same printed, and submit them to the Board for final approval.

Upon motion, which was carried, it was ordered that seven hundred (700) pages, exclusive of the index, shall constitute each volume of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports.

The Clerk was also instructed to change and prepare the specifications so as to enable bidders to bid on the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports separate from other State printing and binding.

No further business appearing, the Board adjourned, and agreed to meet upon the call of the Clerk.

Secretary of State.

CHRIS. H. STEIN,
Clerk.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR, }
 September 9, 1893. }

The Board of Public Printing, etc., met in the above office with all members present.

The Clerk read the minutes of the meeting of August 29, 1893, which were unanimously approved.

The Clerk was instructed to proceed to advertise in the News, Journal and Sentinel two times, September 11 and 12, asking for printing bids, etc. Sealed proposals to be received up to the 16th day of October, to the hour of 11 A. M.

No further business appearing, the Board adjourned to meet upon the call of the Clerk.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE, }
 October 16, 1893, 11 A. M. }

The Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery met in the above office with the Hon. Claude Matthews, Governor, and the Hon. J. O. Henderson, Auditor, present, the Hon. W. R. Myers being absent.

In accordance with an advertisement published in the Indianapolis Daily News, Journal and Sentinel, on September 11 and 12, 1893, calling for proposals for doing the State printing, binding and furnishing the stationery for the State of Indiana for the term of two (2) years, beginning November 1, 1893, the following firms filed their bids with the Secretary of State on October 16, 1893, at 11 A. M., including samples of papers, as required in the specifications: Baker & Randolph Co., Journal Job Printing Co., Levey Bros. & Co., Carlon & Hollenbeck, Wm. B. Burford and Sentinel Printing Co.

Upon motion, which was carried, the Board proceeded to open the bids in the order named.

The reading of the bids item by item was, upon motion, laid over until the return of Wm. R. Myers, Secretary of State.

The Board instructed the Clerk, Mr. Chris. H. Stein, to notify all the bidders to be present when the award would be made.

No further business appearing, the Board, upon motion, adjourned to meet upon call.

THE PRINTING, BINDING AND STATIONERY CONTRACT.

For the Two (2) Years Beginning November 1, 1893.

OCTOBER 20, 1893.

THIS AGREEMENT, Made and entered into this 20th day of October, 1893, between the State of Indiana, by the Hon. Claude Matthews, Governor; Hon. William R. Myers, Secretary of State; and the Hon. J. O. Henderson, Auditor of State, these being the Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, of the first part, and Wm. B. Burford, of Indianapolis, Indiana, of the second part:

WITNESSETH, That the said party of the first part, after a full examination and comparison of bids made by the party of the second part, and other like responsible bidders, to do the printing, binding, lithographing and furnishing the stationery for the State offices and the public institutions of the State, and for legislative purposes, for two (2) years, from the first day of November, 1893, according to the specifications hereto attached and made a part of this contract, has found the proposition of said party of the second part, to do the printing, binding, lithographing and furnishing the stationery, as specified in said specifications, to be, in the aggregate, lower than that of any of the said other bidders, and does now annex the same to this agreement and accept the same.

The said party of the second part therefore agrees to promptly and faithfully provide the material and execute the work in the annexed proposal and furnish the stationery for the time mentioned therein at the prices therein above named, speedily and without unnecessary delay, and all of said material and work shall be subject to the inspection of the clerk in charge of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, in said annexed proposal for the time mentioned therein, at the prices therein above named, speedily and without unnecessary delay.

It is also agreed by the party of the second part that said party of the first part can order such printing, binding, lithographing and stationery at such times and in such quantities as may, in their judgment, be required by the State offices, public institutions and for legislative purposes; and any and all articles that may be required or work to be performed, not embraced by the lists, specifications and schedule, hereto attached, shall not be done or performed unless first ordered by the Board, and the price therefor first ascertained and agreed upon by the parties hereto.

The said party of the first part, in consideration of the faithful execution of the foregoing stipulations by the said party of the second part, and the rendering of full and detailed bills, for work done and material and articles furnished, when completed and delivered, agree that they will cause the amount thereof to be audited and paid out of the Treasury of the State of Indiana, in the manner provided by law; and that they will not audit any bills for purchases of blank books, printing, binding, lithographing or stationery made by any other person or persons other than the said contractor; and should the party of the second part neglect or refuse to carry out any of the provisions of this contract, the party of the first part shall have the privilege, in connection with their other rights, immediately to cancel their contract.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The said party of the first part has caused this instrument to be signed by the Board of Commissioners of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, and the said party of the second part have hereto set their hands and seals this 20th day of October, 1893.

CLAUDE MATTHEWS, Governor,
W. R. MYERS, Secretary of State,
J. O. HENDERSON, Auditor of State,
Bureau of Public Printing.

WM. B. BURFORD,
Contractor.

Approved by order of the Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, this 20th day of October, 1893.

CHRIS. H. STEIN,
Clerk.

The undersigned, William B. Burford, Charles Mayer, Wesley B. Burford, John T. Burford, do hereby acknowledge themselves bound and indebted to the State of Indiana in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars.

Witness our hands and seals this 20th day of October, 1893.

The condition of the above undertaking is as follows:

WHEREAS, On the 20th day of October, 1893, a certain contract was made and entered into between the State of Indiana, by its Board of Commissioners of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, party of the first part, and said William B. Burford, party of the second part, respecting the public printing, binding, lithographing and furnishing stationery for the State of Indiana for the period of two years, beginning the first day of November, 1893, reference to which within contracts is hereby made, the same being made a part of this instrument.

Now, if the said William B. Burford shall duly perform the terms of said contract in the manner and form specified therein, then the obligation of this instrument shall be null and void; otherwise in full force and effect.

WM. B. BURFORD,
CHAS. MAYER,
WESLEY B. BURFORD,
JOHN T. BURFORD.

STATE OF INDIANA, }
MARION COUNTY. } ss.

Before me, a notary public in and for said county, personally appeared William B. Burford, Charles Mayer, John T. Burford and Wesley B. Burford, and acknowledged the execution of the above bond.

Witness my hand and notarial seal, this 20th day of October, A. D., 1893.

JOHN G. OHLEYER,
Notary Public.

[SEAL.]

The within bond approved by order of the Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing, etc., October 20, 1893.

NOTICE.

BUREAU OF PRINTING, BINDING AND STATIONERY, }
 INDIANAPOLIS, September 1, 1893. }

To Printers, Book-Binders and Stationers:

The Board of Commissioners of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery will, in accordance with an act of the General Assembly, approved April 13, 1885, receive sealed proposals until the 16th day of October, 1893, and up to the hour of 11 A. M. of that day, for doing the public printing and binding and furnishing the stationery for the use of the State of Indiana, for a term of two years, commencing on the 1st day of November, 1893.

At the date and hour above stated, in the office of the Secretary of State, the sealed proposals will be opened, and as soon thereafter as the bids can be properly examined and classified the contract will be awarded to the lowest and best bidder, according to law, the Board, however, reserving the right to reject any or all bids submitted.

The work will be divided into three classes, as specified by law, as follows:

The first class shall comprise the laws, journals, reports of officers and public institutions, and all book and pamphlet work to be printed on book paper.

The second class shall comprise all legislative bills, commissions, letter heads, circulars, blanks and other work usually executed on writing paper, and all articles of stationery.

The third class shall comprise the folding, stitching, covering and binding, and all work belonging to the binding business.

Contracts shall also include the printing and blocking of all the election tickets provided by the general election law passed at the Fifty-sixth Session of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, and the preparation of all stamps, provided by said law, for the marking of ballots.

Parties making bids will be required to accompany their sealed proposals with samples of description of paper and material named in said proposals, giving the name and weight of same, or otherwise designated means for making comparisons and estimating values. The contractor will be required to give bond in the sum of $25,000, with approved security, for the faithful performance of all work which may be awarded to him, in accordance with the specifications hereinafter named, and that in every instance the paper and material furnished shall be in color and quality the same as sample furnished.

The contractor shall maintain a printing office and bindery in the city of Indianapolis, for the transaction of all business under said contract, and all work under said contract shall be performed within the State of Indiana.

Any bidder who shall be awarded said contract shall not assign or sub-let the same, or any portion thereof, without the written consent of the Board of Public Printing.

The contract will be let as a whole to the lowest and best bidder in the aggregate, no division of classes being allowed.

The basis furnished is solely for the information of bidders, and to secure uniformity of bids, but in awarding the contract the Board reserves the right to estimate the bids on the basis of calculation set out in the specifications. All information can be ascertained by application to Chris. H. Stein, Clerk of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, at the office of Secretary of State. Mr. Stein will also furnish, on application, specifications and full particulars regarding the work, and the contract must be to do the work according to specifications furnished.

SUPREME AND APPELLATE COURT REPORTS.

The Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing will receive separate bids for the printing and binding of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports.

The contractor will be required to give bond in the sum of $10,000, with approved security, for the faithful performance of printing and binding the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports.

All proposals must be in writing, sealed and marked "Printing Bids," and addressed to W. R. Myers, Secretary of State.

W. R. MYERS,
Secretary of State.

CLAUDE MATTHEWS,

These figures will, I believe, enable those who bid for the State printing, binding, and stationery, to obtain a fair idea of what will be needed during the coming two years. It should also be remembered that under the existing law the Educational, Penal and Benevolent Institutions of the State will procure their printing, binding and stationery through the contractor for the State work proper.

There will be printed annually 64,800 copies of reports, etc., and biennially 65,800 copies of reports, as follows:

SPECIFICATIONS

For printing and binding the reports of the officers of State, public institutions and Documentary Journals for the years 1894 and 1895; the Acts of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana for the year 1895; the Senate and House Journals for the session of 1895, and furnishing all stationery, blanks, etc., that may be needed by the different departments of the public service and the General Assembly, and which are paid for out of the Treasury of the State, for two (2) years from the first day of November, 1893.

The work to be done as above will be divided into three classes, as follows:

FIRST CLASS.

All the paper used in printing the reports, acts, journals, and all classes of pamphlet or book printing that may be required for the use of the State, shall be a clear white, sized and super-calendered book paper of the weight to the ream specified in the contract, and the contract shall be per pound for the amount used, no allowance being made for waste, handling, wetting, freight or otherwise.

The composition to be bid for by the 1,000 ems, actual measure in the book, no blank pages or other unreal charge to be allowed. Figure work shall consist of three justifications of figures or words, without rules. Rule and figure work will consist of three or more justifications of words or figures, with rules, or four or more justifications of words or figures without rules, to be measured as plain matter in accordance with the sizes of type used.

The presswork to be by the token of 240 impressions. All forms of a less number of impressions to be paid for as a full token.

This class also includes the printing of the laws, journals, reports of officers and public institutions, legislative calendars, and all book and pamphlet work, to be printed on book or pamphlet paper.

SECOND CLASS.

Consists of books of record (plain or printed) that may be required for use in the various departments of the State, Educational, Penal and Benevolent Institutions, and the bid to be made by the quire for extra full-bound, or half-bound books, and the weight and size of paper specified; binding, written records for the Clerk of the Supreme Court, enrolled House and Senate Journals and enrolled Acts of the Legislature, Auditor's settlement sheets, railroad returns, etc.

Printing legislative bills, commissions, letter heads, circulars, blanks and other work usually executed on writing or flat paper, to be bid for the first 100 copies, and for each additional 100 copies; letter paper, note paper, legal cap, flat cap, type-writing paper, etc., to be bid for per ream, giving weight and name; envelopes, plain or printed, per thousand; pens, pen-holders, pencils, rubber bands, inks, mucilage, rules, etc., and all other articles not enumerated and classified as stationery.

In this class will be included lithograph letter and note heads, envelopes, commission maps, and all other lithographing that may be required for use of the business of the State departments and institutions. Type work and engraving used in connection with lithographing must be included in the original bid for lithographing.

THIRD CLASS.

All books bound in leather, cloth or paste-board, shall be bid for by single copy. All pamphlets, etc., with paper covers, shall be bid for by the one hundred (100) signatures. The binding to include all handling, assorting, folding, stitching, trimming and covering, and to be counted by the number of copies actually delivered.

The printed copies of the session laws of the General Assembly required by law must be delivered to the Secretary of State within forty days from the date on which last copy shall be furnished the contractor by the Secretary of State.

The contractor shall also deliver to the State Librarian for distribution the printed copies required by law of the journals of the House and Senate, within ninety days from the date on which the last copy shall be furnished him by the proper officers.

The contractor shall maintain a printing office and bindery in the city of Indianapolis for the execution of all work under said contract, and all work under said contract shall be performed within the State of Indiana.

Any bidder who shall be awarded the contract shall not assign or sublet the same, or any portion thereof, to any other party, without the written consent of the Board of Public Printing.

All work is to be done speedily, without unnecessary delay, in a good, workmanlike manner, and in accordance with specimen copies to be seen at the office of the Secretary of State.

A proof of each form shall be furnished in all cases for final revision and correction, without extra charge.

All charges of time for changes from original copy, after type is set, shall be certified to as having been ordered by the officer making such changes, and must also be accompanied by an affidavit from the contractor, or his agent, certifying that such charge is just and proper.

The contract will be let as a whole to the lowest and best bidder in the aggregate, no division of classes being allowed.

The basis furnished is solely for the information of bidders and to secure uniformity, but in awarding the contract the Board reserves the right to estimate the bids on the basis of calculation set out in the specifications.

All bids shall be for the best articles, in each department, now in general use. The board also reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

SUPREME AND APPELLATE COURT REPORTS.

Requirements of the printer and binder of the Reports of the Supreme and Appellate Courts of Indiana, as to the manner of furnishing proof of the opinions of the Judges, the syllabi, and the various corrections to be made therein, the printer and binder of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports agrees and consents to the following regulations:

1. Said printer and binder shall furnish galley proofs of the opinions of the Judges of said Courts, and such proofs shall be furnished in such quantities as the Reporter of the Supreme Court may direct and can dispose of.
2. Said printer and binder shall furnish proof of all syllabi, in such manner as may be agreed upon between him and said Reporter.
3. Said printer and binder shall make all corrections and alterations in said proof as indicated by the Reporter.
4. Said printer and binder shall, after proof of any kind has been furnished, and corrections and alterations therein noted and made, furnish to said Reporter proof of said corrections and alterations in page form.
5. Said printer and binder shall make all corrections and alterations in said pages as may be indicated in said page proof by said Reporter.
6. After said page proofs have been returned and the corrections and alterations made, as thereon indicated, said printer and binder shall furnish to said Reporter proofs thereof in pages, six of a kind, to be made into bunches six of a kind, to be submitted to the Judges for their inspection and correction.
7. Said printer and binder shall make all corrections and alterations in said pages, as indicated by the Reporter and the Judges, and shall furnish to the Reporter proof of all plates, and shall make all corrections and alterations therein indicated by said Reporter, and shall furnish proof thereof.

The contractor shall maintain a printing office and bindery, in the city of Indianapolis, for the transaction of all business under said contract, and all work under said contract shall be performed within the State of Indiana. Any bidder who shall be awarded the contract shall not assign or sublet the same, or any portion thereof, to any other party, without the written consent of the Board of Public Printing, of Indiana. All work executed must be done in accordance with the law authorizing the publication of the Supreme and Appellate Court reports by the State of Indiana.

In accepting the contract for the State Printing, Binding and Stationery, the contractor is required to accept all the conditions set out above in reference to the printing of the Appellate and Supreme Court Reports and furnishing proof to the Reporter, as required therein.

OCTOBER 20, 1893.

The Printing and Binding of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports for the Two (2) Years Beginning November 1, 1893.

This agreement made and entered into this 20th day of October, 1893, between the State of Indiana, by Claude Matthews, Governor, William R. Myers, Secretary of State, and J. O. Henderson, Auditor of State, these being the Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, of the first part, and Carlon & Hollenbeck, of Indianapolis, Indiana, of the second part, witnesseth:

That the said party of the first part, after a full examination and comparison of bids made by the party of the second part and other like responsible bidders, to do the printing of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, in accordance with the law authorizing the publication of the same by the State of Indiana, for two (2) years, from the first day of November, 1893, according to the specifications hereto attached and made a part of this contract, has found the proposition of said party of the second part to do the printing and binding of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, as specified in said specifications, to be, in the aggregate, lower than that of any of the said other bidders, and does now annex the same to this agreement and accept the same.

The said party of the second part, therefore, agrees to promptly and faithfully provide the material and execute the work in the annexed proposal, and furnish the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports for the time mentioned therein, at the prices therein above named, speedily and without unnecessary delay, and all of said material and work shall be subject to the inspection of the clerk in charge of the Bureau of Public Printing and Binding.

The said party of the first part in consideration of the faithful execution of the foregoing stipulations by the said party of the second part, and the rendering of full and detailed bills for work done, and when completed and delivered, agree that they will cause the amount thereof to be audited and paid out of the Treasury of the State of Indiana, in the manner provided by law; and that they will not audit any bills for the printing and binding of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports of the State made by any other person or persons other than the said contractor; and should the party of the second part neglect or refuse to carry out any of the provisions of this contract, the party of the first part shall have the privilege, in connection with their other rights, immediately to cancel this contract.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The said party of the first part has caused this instrument to be signed by the Board of Commissioners of Public Printing, Binding and Stationary, and the said party of the second part have hereto set their hands and seals this 20th day of October, A. D. 1893.

CLAUDE MATTHEWS, Governor,
W. R. MYERS, Secretary of State,
J. O. HENDERSON, Auditor of State,
Bureau of Public Printing.

CARLON & HOLLENBECK,
Contractors.

The undersigned, John Carlon, C. E. Hollenbeck, do hereby acknowledge themselves bound and indebted to the State of Indiana in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars.

Witness our hands and seals this 21st day of October, 1893. The condition of the above undertaking is as follows :

Whereas, on the 20th. day of October, 1893, a certain contract was made and entered into between the State of Indiana, by its Board of Commissioners of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, party of the first part, and said Carlon & Hollenbeck, party of the second part, respecting the printing and binding of the Supreme and Appellate Court Reports for the State of Indiana for the period of two years, beginning the first day of November, 1893, reference to which within contract is hereby made, the same being made a part of this instrument.

Now if the said Carlon & Hollenbeck shall duly perform the terms of said contract, in the manner and form specified therein, then the obligation of this instrument shall be null and void, otherwise in full force and effect.

C. E. HOLLENBECK,
JOHN CARLON,
A. S. COMSTOCK,
P. H. McNELIS.

STATE OF INDIANA, }
MARION COUNTY. } ss :

Before me, a Notary Public in and for said county, personally appeared C. E. Hollenbeck, John Carlon, A. S. Comstock, and P. H. McNelis, and acknowledged the execution of the annexed bond.

Witness my hand and Notarial Seal this 21st day of October, A. D. 1893.

FREDERICK A. JOSS,
Notary Public.

[SEAL.]

The within bond approved by order of the Board of Commissioners of the Bureau of Public Printing, October 21, 1893.

ORDINANCE.

Be it ordained by the Representatives of the people of the Territory of Indiana, in convention met at Corydon, on Monday the tenth day of June, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and sixteen, that we do, for ourselves and our posterity, agree, determine, declare and ordain, that we will, and do hereby accept the propositions of the Congress of the United States, as made and contained in their act of the nineteenth day of April, eighteen hundred and sixteen, entitled "An act to enable the people of the Indiana Territory to form a State Government, and Constitution, and for the admission of such State into the Union, on an equal footing with the original States."

And we do further, for ourselves and our posterity, hereby ratify, confirm, and establish the boundaries of the said State of Indiana as fixed, prescribed, laid down, and established in the act of Congress aforesaid; and we do also further, for ourselves and our posterity, hereby agree, determine, declare and ordain, that each and every tract of land sold by the United States, lying within the said State and which shall be sold from and after the first day of December next, shall be and remain exempt from any tax, laid by order or under any authority of the said State of Indiana, or by or under the authority of the General Assembly thereof; whether for State, County, or Township or any other purpose whatever, for the term of five years from and after the day of sale of any such tract of land; and we do moreover for ourselves, and our posterity, hereby declare and ordain that this ordinance and every part thereof shall forever be and remain irrevocable and inviolate without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, first had and obtained for the alteration thereof, or any part thereof.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

We, the Representatives of the people of the Territory of Indiana, in Convention met at Corydon, on Monday the tenth day of June, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and sixteen, and of the Independence of the United States the Fortieth, having the right of admission into the General Government, as a member of the Union, consistent with the Constitution of the United States, the ordinance of Congress of one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and the law of Congress, entitled "An act to enable the people of the Indiana Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, and for the admission of such State into the Union, on an equal footing with the original States" in order to establish justice, promote the welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish the following Constitution or form of Government, and do mutually agree with each other to form ourselves into a free and independent State, by the name of the State of Indiana.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. That the general, great and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and unalterably established; we declare that all men are born equally free and independent, and have certain natural, inherent, and unalienable rights, among which are the enjoying and defending life and liberty, and of acquiring, possessing and protecting property and pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety.

SEC. 2. That all power is inherent in the people; and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety and happiness. For the advancement of these ends, they have at all times an unalienable and indefeasible right to alter or reform their government in such manner as they may think proper.

SEC. 3. That all men have a natural and indefeasible right to worship Almighty God, according to the dictates of their own consciences. That no man shall be compelled to attend, enact, or support any place of worship or to maintain any ministry against his consent. That no human authority can, in any case whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience; and that no preference shall ever be given by law to any religious societies, or modes of worship; and no religious test shall be required as a qualification to any office of trust or profit.

SEC. 4. That elections shall be free and equal.

SEC. 5. That in all civil cases, when the value in controversy shall exceed the sum of twenty dollars, and in all criminal cases, except in petit misdemeanors, which shall be punished by fine only, not exceeding three dollars, in such manner as the Legislature may prescribe by law, the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate.

SEC. 6. That no power of suspending the operation of the laws shall be exercised. except by the Legislature, or its authority.

SEC. 7. That no man's particular services shall be demanded, or property taken, or applied to public use, without the consent of his representatives, or without a just compensation being made therefore.

SEC. 8. The rights of the people, to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches, and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath, or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

SEC. 9. That the printing presses shall be free to every person who undertakes to examine the proceedings of the Legislature, or any branch of government; and no law shall ever be made to restrain the right thereof. The free communication of thoughts, and opinions, is one of the invaluable rights of man; and every citizen may freely speak, write, and print on any subject, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty.

SEC. 10. In prosecutions for the publication of papers investigating the official conduct of officers, or men in a public capacity, or where the matter published is proper for the public information, the truth thereof may be given in evidence; and in all indictments for libels, the jury shall have a right to determine the law and the facts, under the direction of the Court, as in other cases.

SEC. 11. That all courts shall be open, and every person, for an injury done him, in his lands, goods, person, or reputation shall have remedy by the due course of law, and right and justice administered without denial or delay.

SEC. 12. That no person arrested, or confined in jail, shall be treated with unnecessary rigor, or be put to answer any criminal charge, but by presentment, indictment or impeachment.

SEC. 13. That in all criminal prosecutions, the accused hath a right to be heard by himself and counsel, to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witnesses face to face, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and in prosecution by indictment or presentment a speedy public trial by an impartial jury of the county or district in which the offense shall have been committed; and shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor shall be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense.

SEC. 14. That all persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offenses, when the proof is evident, or the presumption great; and the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless, in case of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require it.

SEC. 15. Excessive bail shall not be required, excessive fines shall not be imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

SEC. 16. All penalties shall be proportioned to the nature of the offense.

SEC. 17. The person of a debtor, where there is not strong presumption of fraud, shall not be continued in prison, after delivering up his estate for the benefit of his creditor or creditors, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 18. No ex post facto law, nor any law impairing the validity of contracts, shall ever be made, and no conviction shall work corruption of blood, nor forfeiture of estate.

SEC. 19. That the people have a right to assemble together in a peaceable manner, to consult for their common good, to instruct their representatives and to apply to the Legislature for redress of grievances.

SEC. 20. That the people have a right to bear arms for the defense of themselves and the State, and that the military shall be kept in strict subordination to the civil power.

SEC. 21. That no soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

SEC. 22. That the Legislature shall not grant any title of nobility, or hereditary distinctions, nor create any office, the appointment to which shall be for a longer time than good behavior.

SEC. 23. That emigration from the State shall not be prohibited.

SEC. 24. To guard against any encroachments on the rights herein retained, we declare that everything in this article is excepted out of the general powers of government, and shall forever remain inviolable.

ARTICLE II.

The powers of the government of Indiana shall be divided into three distinct departments, and each of them be confided to a separate body of magistracy, to-wit: Those which are Legislative to one, those which are Executive to another, and those which are Judiciary to another; and no persons or collection of persons, being of one of those departments, shall exercise any power properly attached to either of the others, except in the instances herein expressly permitted.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The Legislative authority of this State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives, both to be elected by the people.

SEC. 2. The General Assembly may, within two years after their first meeting, and shall, in the year eighteen hundred and twenty, and every subsequent term of five years, cause an enumeration to be made of all the white male inhabitants above the age of twenty-one years. The number of Representatives shall, at the several periods of making such enumeration, be fixed by the General Assembly, and apportioned among the several counties according to the number of white male inhabitants above twenty-one years of age in each; and shall never be less than twenty-five, nor greater than thirty-six, until the number of white male inhabitants above twenty-one years of age shall be twenty-two thousand; and after that event, at such ratio, that the whole number of Representatives shall never be less than thirty-six, nor exceed one hundred.

SEC. 3. The Representatives shall be chosen annually, by the qualified electors of each county respectively, on the first Monday of August.

SEC. 4. No person shall be a representative unless he shall have attained the age of twenty-one years, and shall be a citizen of the United States, and an inhabitant of this State, and shall also have resided within the limits of the county, in which he shall be chosen, one year next preceding his election, if the county shall have been so long erected, but if not, then within the limits of the county or counties out of which it shall have been taken, unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States, or of this State, and shall have paid a State or county tax.

SEC. 5. The Senators shall be chosen for three years, on the first Monday in August, by the qualified votes for Representatives; and on this being convened, in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided by lot, from their respective counties, or districts, as near as can be, into three classes; the seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the first year; and the second class, at the expiration of the second year; and of the third class, at the expiration of the third year; so that one-third thereof, as near as possible, may be annually chosen forever thereafter.

SEC. 6. The number of Senators shall, at the several periods of making the enumeration before mentioned, be fixed by the General Assembly, and apportioned among the several counties or districts, to be established by law, according to the number of white male inhabitants of the age of twenty-one years in each, and shall never be less than one-third, nor more than one-half the number of Representatives.

SEC. 7. No person shall be a Senator, unless he shall have attained the age of twenty-five years, and shall be a citizen of the United States, and shall, next preceding the election, have resided two years in the State, the last twelve months of which in the county or district in which he may be elected, if the county or district shall have been so long erected, but if not, then within the limits of the county or counties, district or districts, out of which the same shall have been taken; unless he shall have been absent on the public business of the United States, or of this State, and shall moreover have paid a State or county tax.

SEC. 8. The House of Representatives, when assembled, shall choose a Speaker, and its other officers, and the Senate shall choose its officers, except the President, and each shall be judges of the qualifications and election of its members, and sit upon its own adjournments. Two-thirds of each House shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members.

SEC. 9. Each House shall keep a Journal of its proceedings, and publish them. The yeas and nays of the members, on any question, shall, at the request of any two of them, be entered on the Journals.

SEC. 10. Any one member of either House shall have liberty to dissent from, and protest against, any act or resolution which he may think injurious to the public, or any individual or individuals, and have the reasons of his dissent entered on the Journals.

SEC. 11. Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member, but not a second time for the same cause; and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the Legislature of a free and independent State.

SEC. 12. When vacancies happen in either branch of the General Assembly, the Governor, or person exercising the power of Governor, shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

SEC. 13. Senators and Representatives shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest, during the session of the General Assembly, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either House, they shall not be questioned in any other place.

SEC. 14. Each House may punish, by imprisonment, during their session, any person, not a member, who shall be guilty of any disrespect to the House, by any disorderly, or contemptuous behavior in their presence: Provided, Such imprisonment shall not, at any one time, exceed twenty-four hours.

SEC. 15. The doors of each House, and of committees of the whole, shall be kept open, except in such cases as, in the opinion of the House, may require secrecy. Neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than two days, nor to any other place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 16. Bills may originate in either House, but may be altered, amended, or rejected by the other.

SEC. 17. Every bill shall be read on three different days in each House, unless, in case of urgency, two-thirds of the House, where such bill may be depending, shall deem it expedient to dispense with this rule, and every bill, having passed both Houses, shall be signed by the President and Speaker of their respective Houses.

SEC. 18. The style of the laws of this State shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana."

SEC. 19. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may amend or reject, as in other bills.

SEC. 20. No person, holding any office under the authority of the President of the United States, or this State, military offices excepted, shall be eligible to a seat in either branch of the General Assembly, unless he resign his office previous to his election, nor shall any member of either branch of the General Assembly, during the time for which he is elected, be eligible to any office, the appointment of which is vested in the General Assembly: Provided, That nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prevent any member of the first session of the first General Assembly from accepting any office that is created by this Constitution, or the Constitution of the United States, and the salaries of which are established.

SEC. 21. No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law.

SEC. 22. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public moneys shall be attached to and published with the laws, at every annual session of the General Assembly.

SEC. 23. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeaching; but a majority of all the members elected must concur in such impeachment. All impeachments shall be tried by the Senate, and when sitting for that purpose the Senators shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to law and evidence. No person shall be convicted without the concurrence of a majority of all the Senators elected.

SEC. 24. The Governor, and all civil officers of the State, shall be removed from office, on impeachment for, and conviction of, treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors; but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, profit, or trust, under this State. The party, whether convicted or acquitted shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

SEC. 25. The first session of the General Assembly shall commence on the first Monday of November next, and forever after the General Assembly shall meet on the first Monday in December in every year, and at no other period, unless directed by law, or provided for by this Constitution.

SEC. 26. No person, who hereafter may be a collector, or holder of public money, shall have a seat in either House of the General Assembly, until such person shall have accounted for and paid into the Treasury all sums for which he may be accountable.

ARTICLE IV

SECTION 1. The Supreme Executive power of this State shall be vested in a Governor, who shall be styled the Governor of the State of Indiana.

SEC. 2. The Governor shall be chosen by the qualified electors on the first Monday in August, at the places where they shall respectively vote for Representatives. The returns of every election for Governor shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of Government, directed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall open and publish them in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly. The person having the highest number of votes shall be Governor, but if two or more shall be equal, and highest in votes, one of them shall be chosen Governor by the joint vote of the members of both Houses. Contested elections shall be determined by a committee, to be selected from both Houses of the General Assembly, and formed and regulated in such manner as shall be directed by law.

SEC. 3. The Governor shall hold his office during three years, from and after the third day of the First Session of the General Assembly next ensuing his election, and until a successor shall be chosen and qualified, and shall not be capable of holding it longer than six years in any term of nine years.

SEC. 4. He shall be at least thirty years of age, and shall have been a citizen of the United States ten years, and have resided in the State five years next preceding his election; unless he shall have been absent on the business of the State, or of the United States: Provided, That this shall not disqualify any person from the office of Governor, who shall be a citizen of the United States, and shall have resided in the Indiana Territory two years next preceding the adoption of this Constitution.

SEC. 5. No member of Congress, or person holding any office under the United States, or this State, shall exercise the office of Governor, or Lieutenant-Governor.

SEC. 6. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected.

SEC. 7. He shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of this State and of the Militia thereof, except when they shall be called into the service of the United States, but he shall not command personally in the field, unless he shall be advised so to do by a resolution of the General Assembly.

SEC. 8. He shall nominate, and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint and commission all officers, the appointment of which is not otherwise directed by this Constitution, and all offices which may be created by the General Assembly shall be filled in such manner as may be directed by law

SEC. 9. Vacancies that may happen in offices, the appointment of which is vested in the Governor and Senate, or in the General Assembly, shall be filled by the Governor, during the recess of the General Assembly, by granting commissions that shall expire at the end of the next session.

SEC. 10. He shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, grant reprieves and pardons, except in cases of impeachments.

SEC. 11. He may require information in writing, from the officers in the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

SEC. 12. He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information of the affairs of the State, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall deem expedient.

SEC. 13. He may, in extraordinary occasions, convene the General Assembly at the seat of government, or at a different place, if that shall have become, since their last adjournment, dangerous from an enemy or from contagious disorders, and in case of a disagreement between the two Houses with respect to the time of adjournment, adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper not beyond the time of their next annual session.

SEC. 14. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 15. A Lieutenant-Governor shall be chosen at every election for Governor, in the same manner, continue in office for the same time, and possess the same qualifications. In voting for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor the electors shall distinguish whom they vote for as Governor and whom as Lieutenant-Governor.

SEC. 16. He shall, by virtue of his office, be President of the Senate, have a right, when in Committee of the Whole, to debate and vote on all subjects, and, when the Senate are equally divided, to give the casting vote.

SEC. 17. In case of impeachment of the Governor, his removal from office, death, refusal to qualify, resignation, or absence from the State, the Lieutenant-Governor shall exercise all the powers and authority appertaining to the office of Governor until another be duly qualified, or the Governor absent or impeached shall return or be acquitted.

SEC. 18. Whenever the government shall be administered by the Lieutenant-Governor, or he shall be unable to attend as President of the Senate, the Senate shall elect one of their own members as President for that occasion. And if, during the vacancy of the office of Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor shall be impeached, removed from office, refuse to qualify, resign, die, or be absent from the State, the President of the Senate pro tem. shall in like manner administer the government until he shall be superseded by a Governor or Lieutenant-Governor. The Lieutenant-Governor, while he acts as President of the Senate, shall receive for his services the same compensation which shall for the same period be allowed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and no more; and during the time he administers the government, as Governor, shall receive the same compensation which the Governor would have received and been entitled to had he been employed in the duties of his office, and no more.

SEC. 19. The President pro tempore of the Senate, during the time he administers the government, shall receive in like manner the same compensation which the Governor would have received had he been employed in the duties of his office, and no more.

SEC. 20. If the Lieutenant Governor shall be called upon to administer the government, and shall, while in such administration, resign, die, or be absent from the State during the recess of the General Assembly, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State for the time being to convene the Senate for the purpose of choosing a President pro tempore.

SEC. 21. A Secretary of State shall be chosen by the joint ballot of both Houses of the General Assembly, and be commissioned by the Governor for four years, or until a new Secretary be chosen and qualified. He shall keep a fair register, and attest all the official acts and proceedings of the Governor, and shall, when required, lay the same and all papers, minutes and vouchers relative thereto before either House of the General Assembly, and shall perform such other duties as may be enjoined him by law.

SEC. 22. Every bill, which shall have passed both Houses of the General Assembly, shall be presented to the Governor; if he approves, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it [may] have originated, who shall enter the objections at large upon their Journals and proceed to reconsider it; if, after such reconsiderations, a majority of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, with the objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by a majority of all the members elected to that House, it shall be a law; but, in such cases, the votes of both Houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for, and against the bill, shall be entered on the Journals of each House respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within five days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, it shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it; unless the general adjournment prevents its return, in which case it shall be a law, unless sent back within three days after their next meeting.

SEC. 23. Every resolution, to which the convenience of both Houses may be necessary, shall be presented to the Governor, and before it shall take effect, be approved by him, or, being disapproved, shall be repassed by a majority of all the members elected to both Houses, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in case of a bill.

SEC. 24. There shall be elected, by joint ballot of both Houses of the General Assembly, a Treasurer and Auditor, whose powers and duties shall be prescribed by law, and who shall hold their offices three years, and until their successors be appointed and qualified.

SEC. 25. There shall be elected in each county, by the qualified electors thereof, one Sheriff and one Coroner, at the times and places of holding elections for members of the General Assembly. They shall continue in office two years, and until successors shall be chosen and duly qualified: Provided, That no person shall be eligible to the office of Sheriff more than four years in any term of six years.

SEC. 26. There shall be a seal of this State, which shall be kept by the Governor and used by him officially, and shall be called the Seal of the State of Indiana.

ARTICLE V.

SECTION 1. The judiciary power of the State, both as to matters of law and equity, shall be vested in one Supreme Court, in Circuit Courts, and in such other inferior courts as the General Assembly may from time to time direct and establish.

SEC. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of three Judges, any two of whom shall form a quorum and shall have appellate jurisdiction only, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State under such restrictions and regulations not repugnant to this Constitution as may from time to time be prescribed by law: Provided, Nothing in this article shall be so construed as to prevent the General Assembly from giving the Supreme Court original jurisdiction in capital cases and cases in chancery where the President of the Circuit Court may be interested or prejudiced.

SEC. 3. The Circuit Courts shall each consist of a President and two Associate Judges. The State shall be divided, by law, into three circuits, for each of which a President shall be appointed, who, during his continuance in office, shall reside therein. The President and Associate Judges, in their respective counties, shall have common law and chancery jurisdiction, as also complete criminal jurisdiction in all such cases and in such manner as may be prescribed by law. The President alone, in the absence of the Associate Judges, or the President and one of the Associate Judges, in the absence of the other, shall be competent to hold a Court, as also the two Associate Judges in the absence of the President, shall be competent to hold a Court, except in capital cases and in cases in chancery: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall prevent the General Assembly from increasing the number of circuits and Presidents as the exigencies of the State may from time to time require.

SEC. 4. The Judges of the Supreme Court, the Circuit, and other inferior courts shall hold their offices during the term of seven years, if they shall so long behave well, and shall at stated times receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 5. The Judges of the Supreme Court shall, by virtue of their offices, be conservators of the peace throughout the State, as also the Presidents of the Circuit Courts in their respective circuits, and the Associate Judges in their respective counties.

SEC. 6. The Supreme Court shall hold its sessions at the seat of government, at such times as shall be prescribed by law; and the Circuit Courts shall be held in the respective counties as may be directed by law.

SEC. 7. The Judges of the Supreme Court shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Presidents of the Circuit Courts shall be appointed by joint ballot of both branches of the General Assembly, and the Associate Judges of the Circuit Courts shall be elected by the qualified electors in the respective counties.

SEC. 8. The Supreme Court shall appoint its own Clerk, and the Clerks of the Circuit Court in the several counties shall be elected by the qualified electors in the several counties, but no person shall be eligible to the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court in any county unless he shall first have obtained, from one or more of the Judges of the Supreme Court, or from one or more of the Presidents of the Circuit Courts, a certificate that he is qualified to execute the duties of the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall prevent the Circuit Courts in each county from appointing a Clerk pro tem. until a qualified Clerk may be duly elected; and Provided, also, That the said Clerks, respectively, when qualified and elected, shall hold their offices seven years, and no longer, unless reappointed.

SEC. 9. All Clerks shall be removable by impeachment as in other cases.

SEC. 10. When any vacancies happen in any of the Courts, occasioned by the death, resignation or removal from office of any Judge of the Supreme or Circuit Courts, or any of the Clerks of the said Courts, a successor shall be appointed in the same manner as herein before prescribed, who shall hold his office for the period which his predecessor had to serve, and no longer, unless reappointed.

SEC. 11. The style of all process shall be "The State of Indiana;" all prosecutions shall be carried on in the name and by the authority of the State of Indiana; and all indictments shall conclude against the peace and dignity of the same.

SEC. 12. A competent number of Justices of the Peace shall be elected by the qualified electors in each township in the several counties, and shall continue in office five years, if they shall so long behave well, whose powers and duties shall from time to time be regulated and defined by law.

ARTICLE VI.

SECTION 1. In all elections, not otherwise provided for by this Constitution, every white male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who has resided in the State one year immediately preceding such election, shall be entitled to vote in the county where he resides; except such as shall be enlisted in the armies of the United States or their allies.

SEC. 2. All elections shall be by ballot: Provided, That the General Assembly may, if they deem it more expedient, at their session in eighteen hundred and twenty-one change the mode so as to vote viva voce, after which time it shall remain unalterable.

SEC. 3. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be free from arrest in going to, during their attendance at, and in returning home from elections.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall have full power to exclude from electing, or being elected, any person convicted of any infamous crime.

SEC. 5. Nothing in this article shall be so construed as to prevent citizens of the United States who were actual residents at the time of adopting this Constitution, and who, by the existing laws of this Territory, are entitled to vote, or persons who have been absent from home on a visit or necessary business, from the privilege of electors.

ARTICLE VII.

SECTION 1. The militia of the State of Indiana shall consist of all free, able-bodied male persons; negroes, mulattoes and Indians excepted, resident in the said State, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, except such persons as now are or hereafter may be exempted by the laws of the United States or of this State; and shall be armed, equipped and trained as the General Assembly may provide by law.

SEC. 2. No person or persons conscientiously scrupulous of bearing arms shall be compelled to do militia duty: Provided, Such person or persons shall pay an equivalent for such exemption; which equivalent shall be collected annually by a civil officer, and be hereafter fixed by law, and shall be equal, as near as may be, to the lowest fines assessed on those privates in the militia who may neglect or refuse to perform militia duty.

SEC. 3. Captains and subalterns shall be elected by those persons in their respective company districts who are subject to perform militia duty, and the Captain of each company shall appoint the non-commissioned officers to said company.

SEC. 4. Majors shall be elected by those persons within the bounds of their respective battalion districts subject to perform militia duty; and Colonels shall be elected by those persons within the bounds of their respective regimental districts subject to perform militia duty.

SEC. 5. Brigadier-General shall be elected by the commissioned officers within the bounds of their respective brigades, and Major-Generals shall be elected by the commissioned officers within the bounds of their respective divisions.

SEC. 6. Troops and squadrons of cavalry and companies of artillery, riflemen, grenadiers or light infantry, may be formed in the said State in such manner as shall be prescribed by law: Provided, however, That every troop or squadron of cavalry, company of artillery, riflemen, grenadiers or light infantry which may hereafter be formed within the said State shall elect their own officers.

SEC. 7. The Governor shall appoint the Adjutant-General and Quartermaster-Generals, as also his aides de camp.

SEC. 8. Major-Generals shall appoint their aides de camp and all other division staff officers. Brigadier-Generals shall appoint their Brigade Majors and all other brigade staff officers, and Colonels shall appoint their regimental staff officers.

SEC. 9. All militia officers shall be commissioned by the Governor, and shall hold their commissions during good behavior or until they arrive at the age of sixty years.

SEC. 10. The General Assembly shall, by law, fix the method of dividing the militia of the said State into divisions, brigades, regiments, battalions and companies, and shall also fix the rank of all staff officers.

ARTICLE VIII.

SECTION 1. Every twelfth year, after this Constitution shall have taken effect, at the general election held for Governor, there shall be a poll opened in which the qualified electors of the State shall express, by vote, whether they are in favor of calling a convention or not; and if there should be a majority of all the votes given at such election in favor of a convention, the Governor shall inform the next General Assembly thereof, whose duty it shall be to provide, by law, for the election of the members to the convention, the number thereof, and the time and place of their meeting, which law shall not be passed unless agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to both branches of the General Assembly, and which convention, when met, shall have it in their power to raise, amend or change the Constitution. But as the holding any part of the human creation in slavery or involuntary servitude can only originate in usurpation and tyranny, no alteration of this Constitution shall ever take place so as to introduce slavery or involuntary servitude in this State otherwise than for the punishment of crimes whereof the party shall have been duly convicted.

ARTICLE IX.

SECTION 1. Knowledge and learning, generally diffused through a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government, and spreading the opportunities and advantages of education through the various parts of the country being highly conducive to this end, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide, by law, for the improvement of such lands as are or hereafter may be granted by the United States to this State for the use of schools, and to apply any funds which may be raised from such lands or from any other quarter to the accomplishment of the grand object for which they are or may be intended. But no lands granted for the use of schools or seminaries of learning shall be sold by authority of this State prior to the year 1820; and the moneys which may be raised out of the sale of any such lands, or otherwise obtained for the purposes aforesaid, shall be and remain a fund for the exclusive purpose of promoting the interest of literature and the sciences, and for the support of seminaries and public schools. The General Assembly shall, from time to time, pass such laws as shall be calculated to encourage intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvements, by allowing rewards and immunities for the promotion and improvement of arts, sciences, commerce, manufacture and natural history; and to countenance and encourage the principles of humanity, honesty, industry and morality.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly, as soon as circumstances will permit, to provide, by law, for a general system of education, ascending in a regular gradation from township schools to a State University, wherein tuition shall be gratis, and equally open to all.

SEC. 3. And for the promotion of such salutary end, the money which shall be paid, as an equivalent, by persons exempt from military duty, except in times of war, shall be exclusively, and in equal proportion, applied to the support of County Seminaries; also, all fines assessed for any breach of the penal laws shall be applied to said seminaries in the county wherein they shall be assessed.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly, as soon as circumstances will permit, to form a penal code, founded on the principles of reformation, and not of vindictive justice. And, also to provide one or more farms to be an asylum for those persons, who, by reason of age, infirmity, or other misfortunes, may have a claim upon the aid and beneficence of society; on such principles, that such persons may therein find employment and every reasonable comfort, and lose by their usefulness, the degrading sense of dependence.

SEC. 5. The General Assembly, at the time they lay off a new county, shall cause at least ten per cent. to be reserved out of the proceeds of the sale of town lots in the seat of justice of such county, for the use of a public library for such county, and at the same session they shall incorporate a Library Company under such rules and regulations as will best secure its permanence and extend its benefits.

ARTICLE X.

SECTION 1. There shall not be established or incorporated in this State, any bank or banking company, or monied institution for the purpose of issuing bills of credit, or bills payable to order or bearer: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent the General Assembly from establishing a State Bank, and branches, not exceeding one branch for any three counties, and be established at such place within such counties as the Directors of the State Bank may select: Provided, There be subscribed, and paid in specie, on the part of individuals, a sum equal to thirty thousand dollars: Provided also, That the bank at Vincennes, and the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Indiana, at Madison, shall be considered as incorporated banks, according to the true tenor of the charters granted to said banks by the Legislature of the Indiana Territory: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed, as to prevent the General Assembly from adopting either of the aforesaid banks as the State Bank, and in case either of them shall be adopted as the State Bank, the other may become a branch under the rules and regulations hereinbefore prescribed.

ARTICLE XI.

SECTION 1. Every person who shall be chosen or appointed to any office of trust or profit, under the authority of this State, shall, before entering on the duties of said office, take an oath or affirmation, before any person lawfully authorized to administer oaths, to support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of this State, and also an oath of office.

SEC. 2. Treason against this State shall consist only in levying war against it, in adhering to its enemies, or giving them aid and comfort.

SEC. 3. No person shall be convicted of treason, unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or his own confession in open court.

SEC. 4. The manner of administering an oath, or affirmation, shall be such as is most consistent with the conscience of the deponent, and shall be esteemed the most solemn appeal to God.

SEC. 5. Every person shall be disqualified from serving as Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Senator, or Representative, for the term for which he shall have been elected, who shall have been convicted of having given, or offered any bribe, treat, or reward to procure his election.

SEC. 6. All officers shall reside within the State; and all district, county, or town officers, within their respective districts, counties or towns (the trustees of the town of Clarksville excepted,) and shall keep their respective offices at such places therein, as may be directed by law; and all militia officers shall reside within the bounds of the division, brigade, regiment, battalion or company to which they may severally belong.

SEC. 7. There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in this State, otherwise than for the punishment of crimes, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, nor shall any indenture of any negro or mulatto, hereafter made and executed out of the bounds of this State be of any validity within the State.

SEC. 8. No act of the General Assembly shall be in force until it shall have been published in print, unless in cases of emergency.

SEC. 9. All commissions shall be in the name, and by the authority of the State of Indiana; and sealed with the State seal, and signed by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 10. There shall be elected in each county a Recorder, who shall hold his office during the term of seven years, if he shall so long behave well: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall prevent the Clerks of the Circuit Courts from holding the office of Recorder.

SEC. 11. Corydon, in Harrison County, shall be the seat of Government of the State of Indiana, until the year eighteen hundred and twenty-five, and until removed by law.

SEC. 12. The General Assembly, when they lay off any new county, shall not reduce the old county, or counties, from which the same shall be taken to a less content than four hundred square miles.

SEC. 13. No person shall hold more than one lucrative office at the same time, except as in this Constitution is expressly permitted.

SEC. 14. No person shall be appointed as a county officer, within any county, who shall not have been a citizen and an inhabitant therein one year next preceding his appointment, if the county shall have been so long erected, but if the county shall not have been so long erected, then within the limits of the county, or counties, out of which it shall have been taken.

SEC. 15. All town and township officers shall be appointed in such manner as shall be directed by law.

SEC. 16. The following officers of Government shall not be allowed greater annual salaries until the year eighteen hundred and nineteen, then as follows: The Governor, one thousand dollars; the Secretary of State, four hundred dollars; the Auditor of Public Accounts, four hundred dollars; the Treasurer, four hundred dollars; the Judges of the Supreme Court, eight hundred dollars each; the Presidents of the Circuit Courts, eight hundred dollars each; and the members of the General Assembly, not exceeding two dollars per day each, during their attendance on the same, and two dollars for every twenty-five miles they shall severally travel on the most usual route in going to and returning from the General Assembly;

after which time their pay shall be regulated by law. , But no law, passed to increase the pay of the members of the General Assembly, shall take effect until after the close of the session at which such law shall have been passed

SEC. 17. In order that the boundaries of the State of Indiana may more certainly be known and established, it is hereby ordained and declared that the following shall be and forever remain the boundaries of the said State, to-wit: Bounded on the east by the meridian line which forms the western boundary of the State of Ohio, on the south by the Ohio River, from the mouth of the Great Miami River, to the mouth of the River Wabash; on the west by a line drawn along the middle of the Wabash River from its mouth to a point, where a due north line drawn from the town of Vincennes would last touch the northwestern shore of the said Wabash River; and from thence by a due north line until the same shall intersect an east and west line, drawn through a point ten miles north of the southern extreme of Lake Michigan; on the north by the said east and west line, until the same shall intersect the first mentioned meridian line, which forms the western boundary of the State of Ohio.

ARTICLE XII.

SECTION 1. That no evils or inconveniences may arise from the change of a Territorial Government to a permanent State Government, it is declared by this Convention that all rights, suits, actions, prosecutions, recognizances, contracts and claims, both as it respects individuals and bodies corporate, shall continue as if no change had taken in this Government.

SEC. 2. All fines, penalties and forfeitures, due, and owing to the Territory of Indiana, or any county therein, shall inure to the use of the State or county. All bonds executed to the Governor, or any other officer in his official capacity in the Territory, shall pass over to the Governor or others officer of the State or county, and their successors in office, for the use of the State or county, or by him or them to be respectively assigned over to the use of those concerned, as the case may be.

SEC. 3. The Governor, Secretary and Judges and all other officers, both civil and military, under the Territorial Government, shall continue in the exercise of the duties of their respective departments until the said officers are superseded under the authority of this Constitution.

SEC. 4. All laws and parts of laws now in force in this Territory not inconsistent with this Constitution, shall continue and remain in full force and effect until they expire or be repealed.

SEC. 5. The Governor shall use his private seal until a State seal be procured.

SEC. 6. The Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of Public Accounts and Treasurer shall severally reside and keep all the public records, books and papers in any manner relating to their respective offices at the seat of government: Provided, notwithstanding, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to affect the residence of the Governor for the space of six months, and until buildings suitable for his accommodation shall be procured at the expense of the State.

SEC. 7. All suits, pleas, complaints and other proceedings now depending in any Court of Record or Justice's Court shall be prosecuted to final judgment and execution, and all appeals, writs of error certiorari, injunction or other proceedings whatsoever, shall progress and be carried on in the respective court or courts, in the same manner as is now provided by law, and all proceedings had therein in as full and complete a manner as if this Constitution were not adopted. And appeals and writs of error may be taken from the Circuit Court and General Court now established in the Indiana Territory to the Supreme Court in such manner as shall be provided for by law.

SEC. 8. The President of this convention shall issue writs of election, directed to the several Sheriffs of the several counties, requiring them to cause an election to be held for a Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, a Representative to the Congress of the United States, Members of the General Assembly, Sheriffs and Coroners, at the respective election districts in each county, on the first Monday in August next; which election shall be conducted in the [manner] prescribed by the existing election laws of the Indiana Territory; and the said Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Members of the General Assembly, Sheriffs and Coroners, then duly elected, shall continue to exercise the duties of their respective offices for the time prescribed by this Constitution, and until their successor or successors are qualified, and no longer.

SEC. 9. Until the first enumeration shall be made, as directed by this Constitution, the county of Wayne shall be entitled to one Senator and three Representatives; the county of Franklin, one Senator and three Representatives; the county of Dearborn, one Senator and two Representatives; the county of Switzerland, one Representative, and the counties of Jefferson and Switzerland, one Senator, and the county of Jefferson, two Representatives; the county of Clark, one Senator and three Representatives; the county of Harrison, one Senator and three Representatives; the counties of Washington, Orange and Jackson, one Senator, and the county of Washington, two Representatives; the counties of Orange and Jackson, one Representative each; the county of Knox, one Senator and three Representatives; the county of Gibson, one Senator and two Representatives; the counties of Posey, Warrick and Perry, one Senator, and each of the aforesaid counties of Posey, Warrick and Perry, one Representative.

SEC. 10. All books, records, documents, warrants and papers appertaining and belonging to the office of the Territorial Treasurer of the Indiana Territory, and all moneys therein, and all papers and documents in the office of the Secretary of said Territory, shall be disposed of as the General Assembly of this State may direct.

SEC. 11. All suits, actions, pleas, complaints, prosecutions and causes whatsoever, and all records, books, papers and documents now in the General Court, may be transferred to the Supreme Court established by this Constitution. And all causes, suits, actions, pleas, complaints and prosecutions whatsoever now existing or pending in the Circuit Courts of this Territory, or which may be therein at the change of government, and all records, books, papers and documents relating to the said suits or filed in the said courts may be transferred over to the Circuit Courts established by this Constitution, under such rules and regulations as the General Assembly may direct.

Done in convention at Corydon on the twenty-ninth day of June, in the year of our Lord, eighteen hundred and sixteen, and of the Independence of the United States the fortieth.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We have hereunto subscribed our names.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

1851.

PREAMBLE.

To the end that justice be established, public order maintained, and liberty perpetuated: We, the people of the State of Indiana, grateful to Almighty God for the free exercise of the right to choose our own form of government, do ordain this Constitution.

ARTICLE I.

BILL OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 1. We declare that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that all power is inherent in the people; and that all free governments are, and of right ought to be, founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety, and well being. For the advancement of these ends, the people have at all times an indefeasible right to alter and reform their government.

SEC. 2. All men shall be secured in their natural right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences.

SEC. 3. No law shall, in any case whatever, control the free exercise and enjoyment of religious opinions, or interfere with the rights of conscience.

SEC. 4. No preference shall be given, by law, to any creed, religious society or mode of worship; and no man shall be compelled to attend, erect or support any place of worship, or to maintain any ministry against his consent.

SEC. 5. No religious test shall be required as a qualification for any office of trust or profit.

SEC. 6. No money shall be drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious or theological institution.

SEC. 7. No person shall be rendered incompetent as a witness, in consequence of his opinion on matters of religion.

SEC. 8. The mode of administering an oath or affirmation shall be such as may be most consistent with, and binding upon, the conscience of the person to whom such oath or affirmation may be administered.

SEC. 9. No law shall be passed restraining the free interchange of thought and opinion, or restricting the right to speak, write, or print, freely, on any subject whatever; but for the abuse of that right every person shall be responsible.

SEC. 10. In all prosecutions for libel, the truth of the matters alleged to be libelous may be given in justification.

SEC. 11. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable search or seizure shall not be violated, and no warrant shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the person or thing to be seized.

SEC. 12. All courts shall be open; and every man, for injury done to him, in his person, property or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law. Justice shall be administered freely and without purchase; completely, and without denial; speedily, and without delay.

SEC. 13. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to a public trial, by an impartial jury in the county in which the offense shall have been committed; to be heard by himself and counsel; to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witnesses face to face, and to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor.

SEC. 14. No person shall be put in jeopardy twice for the same offense. No person, in any criminal prosecution, shall be compelled to testify against himself.

SEC. 15. No person arrested, or confined in jail, shall be treated with unnecessary rigor.

SEC. 16. Excessive bail shall not be required. Excessive fines shall not be imposed. Cruel and unusual punishment shall not be inflicted. All penalties shall be proportioned to the nature of the offense.

SEC. 17. Offenses, other than murder or treason, shall be bailable by sufficient sureties. Murder or treason shall not be bailable when the proof is evident, or the presumption strong.

SEC. 18. The penal code shall be founded on the principles of reformation, and not of vindictive justice.

SEC. 19. In all criminal cases whatever, the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts.

SEC. 20. In all civil cases the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate.

SEC. 21. No man's particular services shall be demanded without just compensation. No man's property shall be taken by law without just compensation; nor, except in case of the State, without such compensation first assessed and tendered.

SEC. 22. The privilege of the debtor to enjoy the necessary comforts of life, shall be recognized by wholesome laws, exempting a reasonable amount of property from seizure or sale for the payment of any debt or liability hereafter contracted; and there shall be no imprisonment for debt, except in case of fraud.

SEC. 23. The General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen, or class of citizens, privileges or immunities which, upon the same terms, shall not equally belong to all citizens.

SEC. 24. No ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contract, shall ever be passed.

SEC. 25. No law shall be passed, the taking effect of which shall be made to depend upon any authority, except as provided in this Constitution.

SEC. 26. The operation of the laws shall never be suspended except by the authority of the General Assembly.

SEC. 27. The privileges of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, except in case of rebellion or invasion, and then only if the public safety demand it.

SEC. 28. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, and giving aid and comfort to its enemies.

SEC. 29. No person shall be convicted of treason, except on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or upon his confession in open court.

SEC. 30. No conviction shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture of estate.

SEC. 31. No law shall restrain any of the inhabitants of the State from assembling together, in a peaceable manner, to consult for their common good; nor from instructing their representatives; nor from applying to the General Assembly for redress of grievances.

SEC. 32. The people shall have a right to bear arms for the defense of themselves and the State.

SEC. 33. The military shall be kept in strict subordination to the civil power.

SEC. 34. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

SEC. 35. The General Assembly shall not grant any title of nobility, nor confer hereditary distinctions.

SEC. 36. Emigration from the State shall not be prohibited.

SEC 37. There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, within the State, otherwise than for the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted. No indenture of any negro or mulatto, made or executed out of the bounds of the State, shall be valid within the State.

ARTICLE II.

SUFFRAGE AND ELECTION.

SECTION 1. All elections shall be free and equal.

SEC. 2. In all elections not otherwise provided for by this Constitution, every male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have resided in the State during the six months, and in the township sixty days, and in the ward or precinct thirty days immediately preceding such election; and every male of foreign birth, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have resided in the United States one year, and shall have resided in this State during the six months, and in the township sixty days, and in the ward or precinct thirty days, immediately preceding such election, and shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization, shall be entitled to vote in the township or precinct where he may reside, if he shall have been duly registered according to law.

SEC. 3. No soldier, seaman or marine, in the army or navy of the United States, or their allies, shall be deemed to have acquired a residence in this State in consequence of having been stationed within the same; nor shall any such soldier, seaman or marine, have the right to vote.

SEC. 4. No person shall be deemed to have lost his residence in the State by reason of his absence either on business of the State or of the United States.

SEC. 5. [Stricken out by constitutional amendment of March 24, 1881.]

SEC. 6. Every person shall be disqualified from holding office during the term for which he may have been elected, who shall have given or offered a bribe, threat, or reward to procure his election.

SEC. 7. Every person who shall give or accept a challenge to fight a duel, or who shall knowingly carry to another person such challenge, or who shall agree to go out of the State to fight a duel, shall be ineligible to any office of trust or profit.

SEC. 8. The General Assembly shall have power to deprive of the right of suffrage, and to render ineligible any person convicted of an infamous crime.

SEC. 9. No person holding a lucrative office or appointment, under the United States, or under this State, shall be eligible to a seat in the General Assembly; nor shall any person hold more than one lucrative office at the same time, except as in this Constitution expressly permitted: Provided, That offices in the militia, to which there is attached no annual salary, and the office of Deputy Postmaster, where the compensation does not exceed ninety dollars per annum, shall not be deemed lucrative; And provided, also, That counties containing less than one thousand polls may confer the office of Clerk, Recorder and Auditor, or any two of said offices, upon the same person.

SEC. 10. No person who may hereafter be a collector or holder of public moneys, shall be eligible to any office of trust or profit until he shall have accounted for and paid over, according to law, all sums for which he may be liable.

SEC. 11. In all cases in which it is provided that an office shall not be filled by the same person more than a certain number of years continuously, an appointment pro tempore shall not be reckoned a part of that term.

SEC. 12. In all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, electors shall be free from arrest in going to elections, during their attendance there, and in returning from the same.

SEC. 13. All elections by the people shall be by ballot; and all elections by the General Assembly, or by either branch thereof, shall be viva voce.

SEC. 14. All general elections shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November; but township elections may be held at such time as may be provided by law: Provided, That the General Assembly may provide by law for the election of all judges of courts of general or appellate jurisdiction, by an election to be held for such officers only, at which time no other officer shall be voted for; and shall also provide for the registration of all persons entitled to vote.

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS.

SECTION 1. The powers of the Government are divided into three separate departments: the Legislative, the Executive (including the Administrative), and the Judicial; and no person charged with official duties under one of these departments shall exercise any of the functions of another except as in this Constitution expressly provided.

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE.

SECTION 1. The Legislative authority of the State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives. The style of every law shall be, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana;" and no law shall be enacted except by bill.

SEC. 2. The Senate shall not exceed fifty, nor the House of Representatives one hundred members; and they shall be chosen by the electors of the respective counties or districts into which the State may, from time to time, be divided.

SEC. 3. Senators shall be elected for the term of four years, and Representatives for the term of two years, from the day next after their general election: Provided, however, That the Senators elect, at the second meeting of the General Assembly under this Constitution, shall be divided, by lot, into two equal classes, as nearly as may be; and the seats of Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of two years, and those of the second class at the expiration of four years; so that one-half, as nearly as possible, shall be chosen biennially forever thereafter. And in case of increase in the number of Senators, they shall be so annexed by lot, to the one or the other of the two classes, as to keep them as nearly equal as practicable.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall, at its second session after the adoption of this Constitution, and every sixth year thereafter, cause an enumeration to be made of all the male inhabitants over the age of twenty-one years.

SEC. 5. The number of Senators and Representatives shall, at the session next following each period of making such enumeration, be fixed by law, and apportioned among the several counties, according to the number of male inhabitants, above twenty-one years of age, in each: Provided, That the first and second elections of members of the General Assembly, under this Constitution, shall be according to the apportionment last made by the General Assembly before the adoption of this Constitution.

SEC. 6. A Senatorial or Representative district, where more than one county shall constitute a district, shall be composed of contiguous counties; and no county, for Senatorial apportionment, shall ever be divided.

SEC. 7. No person shall be a Senator or a Representative, who, at the time of his election, is not a citizen of the United States; nor any one who has not been, for two years next preceding his election, an inhabitant of this State, and for one year next preceding his election, an inhabitant of the county or district whence he may be chosen. Senators shall be at least twenty-five, and Representatives at least twenty-one years of age.

SEC. 8. Senators and Representatives, in all cases except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly, and in going to and returning from the same; and shall not be subject to any civil process during the session of the General Assembly, nor during the fifteen days next before the commencement thereof. For any speech or debate in either House, a member shall not be questioned in any other place.

SEC. 9. The sessions of the General Assembly shall be held biennially, at the capital of the State, commencing on the Thursday next after the first Monday of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and on the same day of every second year thereafter, unless a different day or place shall have been appointed by law. But if, in the opinion of the Governor, the public welfare shall require it, he may, at any time, by proclamation, call a special session.

SEC. 10. Each House, when assembled, shall choose its own officers (the President of the Senate excepted), judge the elections, qualifications and returns of its own members, determine its rules of proceeding, and sit upon its own adjournment. But neither House shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any place other than that in which it may be sitting.

SEC. 11. Two-thirds of each House shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may meet, adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members. A quorum being in attendance, if either House fail to effect an organization within the first five days thereafter, the members of the House so failing shall be entitled to no compensation from the end of the said five days, until an organization shall have been effected.

SEC. 12. Each House shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same. The yeas and nays, on any question, shall, at the request of any two members, be entered, together with the names of the members demanding the same, on the journal: Provided, That on a motion to adjourn, it shall require one-tenth of the members present to order the yeas and nays.

SEC. 13. The doors of each House, and of Committees of the Whole, shall be kept open, except in such cases as, in the opinion of either House, may require secrecy.

SEC. 14. Either House may punish its members for disorderly behavior, and may, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member; but not a second time for the same cause.

SEC. 15. Either House, during its session, may punish, by imprisonment, any person not a member, who shall have been guilty of disrespect to the House, by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; but such imprisonment shall not, at any time, exceed twenty-four hours.

SEC. 16. Each House shall have all powers necessary for a branch of the legislative department of a free and independent State.

SEC. 17. Bills may originate in either House, but may be amended or rejected in the other, except that bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives.

SEC. 18. Every bill shall be read by sections, on three several days in each House; unless, in case of emergency, two-thirds of the House where such bill may be depending shall, by a vote of yeas and nays, deem it expedient to dispense with this rule; but the reading of a bill by sections, on its final passage, shall in no case be dispensed with; and the vote on the passage of every bill or joint resolution shall be taken by yeas and nays.

SEC. 19. Every act shall embrace but one subject, and matters properly connected therewith; which subject shall be expressed in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act, which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in the title.

SEC. 20. Every act and joint resolution shall be plainly worded, avoiding, as far as practicable, the use of technical terms.

SEC. 21. No act shall ever be revised or amended by mere reference to its title; but the act revised, or section amended, shall be set forth and published at full length.

SEC. 22. The General Assembly shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say:

Regulating the jurisdiction and duties of justices of the peace and of constables;

For the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors;

Regulating the practice in courts of justice;

Providing for changing the venue in civil and criminal cases;

Granting divorces;

Changing the names of persons;

For laying out, opening and working on, highways, and for the election or appointment of supervisors;

Vacating roads, town plats, streets, alleys and public squares;

Summoning and impanneling grand and petit juries, and providing for their compensation;

Regulating county and township business;

Regulating the election of county and township officers, and their compensation;

For the assessment and collection of taxes for State, county, township or road purposes;

Providing for supporting common schools, and for the preservation of school funds;

In relation to fees or salaries; except that the laws may be so made as to grade the compensation of officers in proportion to the population and the necessary services required;

In relation to interest on money;

Providing for opening and conducting elections of State, county or township officers, and designating the places of voting;

Providing for the sale of real estate belonging to minors, or other persons laboring under legal disabilities, by executors, administrators, guardians or trustees

SEC. 23. In all the cases enumerated in the preceding section, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general and of uniform operation throughout the State.

SEC. 24. Provisions may be made by general law, for bringing suits against the State, as to all liabilities originating after the adoption of this Constitution; but no special act authorizing such suit to be brought, or making compensation to any person claiming damages against the State, shall ever be passed.

SEC. 25. A majority of all the members elected to each House shall be necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution; and all bills and joint resolutions so passed shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective houses.

SEC. 26. Any member of either House shall have the right to protest, and to have his protest, with his reasons for dissent, entered on the journal.

SEC. 27. Every statute shall be a public law, unless otherwise declared in the statute itself.

SEC. 28. No act shall take effect until the same shall have been published and circulated in the several counties of this State, by authority, except in case of emergency; which emergency shall be declared in the preamble or in the body of the law.

SEC. 29. The members of the General Assembly shall receive for their services a compensation, to be fixed by law; but no increase of compensation shall take effect during the session at which such increase may be made. No session of the General Assembly, except the first under this Constitution, shall extend beyond the term of sixty-one days, nor any special session beyond the term of forty days.

SEC. 30. No Senator or Representative shall, during the term for which he may have been elected, be eligible to any office, the election to which is vested in the General Assembly, nor shall he be appointed to any civil office of profit, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased, during such term; but this latter provision shall not be construed to apply to any office elective by the people.

ARTICLE V.

EXECUTIVE.

SECTION 1. The executive powers of the State shall be vested in a Governor. He shall hold his office during four years, and shall not be eligible more than four years in any period of eight years.

SEC. 2. There shall be a Lieutenant Governor, who shall hold his office during four years.

SEC. 3. The Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the times and places of choosing members of the General Assembly.

SEC. 4. In voting for Governor and Lieutenant Governor the electors shall designate for whom they vote as Governor, and for whom as Lieutenant Governor. The returns of every election for Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government, directed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall open and publish them in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly.

SEC. 5. The persons, respectively, having the highest number of votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall be elected; but in case two or more persons shall have an equal and the highest number of votes for either office, the General Assembly shall, by joint vote, forthwith proceed to elect one of the said persons Governor or Lieutenant Governor, as the case may be.

SEC. 6. Contested elections for Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall be determined by the General Assembly, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 7. No person shall be eligible to the office of Governor or Lieutenant Governor, who shall not have been five years a citizen of the United States, and also a resident of the State of Indiana during the five years next preceding his election; nor shall any person be eligible to either of the said offices who shall not have attained the age of thirty years.

SEC. 8. No member of Congress, or person holding any office under the United States, or under this State, shall fill the office of Governor or Lieutenant Governor.

SEC. 9. The official term of the Governor or Lieutenant Governor shall commence on the second Monday of January, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three; and on the same day every fourth year thereafter.

SEC. 10. In case of the removal of the Governor from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the duties of the office, the same shall devolve on the Lieutenant Governor; and the General Assembly shall, by law, provide for the case of removal from office, death, resignation, or inability, both of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, declaring what officer then shall act as Governor; and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed or a Governor be elected.

SEC. 11. Whenever the Lieutenant Governor shall act as Governor, or shall be unable to attend as President of the Senate, the Senate shall elect one of its own members as President for the occasion.

SEC. 12. The Governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces, and may call out such forces to execute the laws, or to suppress insurrection, or to repel invasion.

SEC. 13. He shall, from time to time, give to the General Assembly information touching the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he shall judge to be expedient.

SEC. 14. Every bill which shall have passed the General Assembly shall be presented to the Governor; if he approve, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the House in which it shall have originated, which House shall enter the objections at large upon its journals, and proceed to reconsider the bill. If, after such reconsideration, a majority of all the members elected to that House shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, with the Governor's objections, to the other House, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by a majority of all the members elected to that House, it shall be a law. If any bill shall not be returned by the Governor within three days, Sundays excepted, after it shall have been presented to him, it shall be a law without his signature, unless the general adjournment shall prevent its return, in which case it shall be a law, unless the Governor, within five days next after such adjournment, shall file such bill, with his objections thereto, in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall lay the same before the General Assembly at its next session in like manner as if it had been returned by the Governor. But no bill shall be presented to the Governor within two days next previous to the final adjournment of the General Assembly.

SEC. 15. The Governor shall transact all necessary business with the officers of Government, and may require any information in writing from the officers of the administrative department, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

SEC. 16. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 17. He shall have the power to grant reprieves, commutations and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law. Upon conviction for treason, he shall have power to suspend the execution of the sentence until the case shall be reported to the General Assembly at its next meeting, when the General Assembly shall either grant a pardon, commute the sentence, direct the execution of the sentence, or grant a further reprieve. He shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and shall report to the General Assembly at its next meeting, each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted, and also the names of all persons in whose favor remission of fines and forfeitures shall have been made, and the several amounts remitted: Provided, however, That the General Assembly, may, by law, constitute a council, to be composed of officers of State, without whose advice and consent the Governor shall not have power to grant pardons, in any case, except such as may, by law, be left to his sole power.

SEC. 18. When, during a recess of the General Assembly, a vacancy shall happen in any office, the appointment to which is vested in the General Assembly, or when, at any time, a vacancy shall have occurred in any other State office, or in the office of Judge of any court, the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, which shall expire when a successor shall have been elected and qualified.

SEC. 19. He shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies as may have occurred in the General Assembly.

SEC. 20. Should the seat of Government become dangerous from disease or a common enemy, he may convene the General Assembly at any other place.

SEC. 21. The Lieutenant Governor shall, by virtue of his office, be President of the Senate; have a right, when in Committee of the Whole, to join in debate, and to vote on all subjects, and, whenever the Senate shall be equally divided, he shall give the casting vote.

SEC. 22. The Governor shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected.

SEC. 23. The Lieutenant Governor, while he shall act as President of the Senate, shall receive for his services the same compensation as the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and any person acting as Governor shall receive the compensation attached to the office of Governor.

SEC. 24. Neither the Governor nor Lieutenant Governor shall be eligible to any other office during the term for which he shall have been elected.

ARTICLE VI.

ADMINISTRATIVE.

SECTION 1. There shall be elected by the voters of the State, a Secretary, an Auditor, and a Treasurer of State, who shall severally hold their offices for two years. They shall perform such duties as may be enjoined by law; and no person shall be eligible to either of said offices more than four years in any period of six years.

SEC. 2. There shall be elected in each county, by the voters thereof, at the time of holding general elections, a Clerk of the Circuit Court, Auditor, Recorder, Treasurer, Sheriff, Coroner, and Surveyor. The Clerk, Auditor and Recorder shall continue in office four years; and no person shall be eligible to the office of Clerk, Recorder or Auditor more than eight years in any period of twelve years. The Treasurer, Sheriff, Coroner, and Surveyor, shall continue in office two years; and no person shall be eligible to the office of Treasurer or Sheriff more than four years in any period of six years.

SEC. 3. Such other county and township officers as may be necessary, shall be elected or appointed, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 4. No person shall be elected or appointed as a county officer, who shall not be an elector of the county; nor any one who shall not have been an inhabitant thereof during one year next preceding his appointment, if the county shall have been so long organized; but if the county shall not have been so long organized, then within the limits of the county or counties out of which the same shall have been taken.

SEC. 5. The Governor, and the Secretary, Auditor and Treasurer of State, shall, severally, reside and keep the public records, books and papers, in any manner relating to the respective offices, at the seat of government.

SEC. 6. All county, township, and town officers shall reside within their respective counties, townships, and towns, and shall keep their respective offices at such places therein, and perform such duties as may be directed by law.

SEC. 7. All State officers shall, for crime, incapacity, or negligence, be liable to be removed from office, either by impeachment by the House of Representatives, to be tried by the Senate, or by a joint resolution of the General Assembly; two-thirds of the members elected to each branch voting, in either case, therefor.

SEC. 8. All State, county, township, and town officers may be impeached, or removed from office, in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 9. Vacancies in county, township, and town offices shall be filled in such manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 10. The General Assembly may confer upon the Boards doing county business in the several counties, powers of a local administrative character.

ARTICLE VII.

JUDICIAL.

SECTION 1. The Judicial power of the State shall be vested in a Supreme Court, in Circuit Courts, and in such other courts as the General Assembly may establish.

SEC. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of not less than three, nor more than five Judges; a majority of whom shall form a quorum. They shall hold their offices for six years, if they so long behave well.

SEC. 3. The State shall be divided into as many districts as there are Judges of the Supreme Court, and such districts shall be formed of contiguous territory, as nearly equal in population as, without dividing a county, the same can be made. One of said Judges shall be elected from each district, and reside therein; but said Judge shall be elected by the electors of the State at large.

SEC. 4. The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction, co-extensive with the limits of the State, in appeals and writs of error, under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by law. It shall also have such original jurisdiction as the General Assembly may confer.

SEC. 5. The Supreme Court shall, upon the decision of every case, give a statement in writing of each question arising in the record of such case, and the decision of the Court thereon.

SEC. 6. The General Assembly shall provide by law, for the speedy publication of the decisions of the Supreme Court, made under this Constitution, but no judge shall be allowed to report such decision.

SEC. 7. There shall be elected by the voters of the State, a Clerk of the Supreme Court, who shall hold his office four years, and whose duties shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 8. The Circuit Courts shall each consist of one judge, and shall have such civil and criminal jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 9. The State shall, from time to time, be divided into judicial circuits, and a judge for each circuit shall be elected by the voters thereof. He shall reside within the circuit, and shall hold his office for the term of six years, if he so long behave well.

SEC. 10. The General Assembly may provide, by law, that the judge of one circuit may hold the courts of another circuit, in cases of necessity or convenience; and in case of temporary inability of any judge, from sickness or other cause, to hold the courts in his circuit, provision may be made, by law, for holding such courts.

SEC. 11. There shall be elected, in each judicial circuit, by the voters thereof, a prosecuting attorney, who shall hold his office for two years.

SEC. 12. Any judge or prosecuting attorney, who shall have been convicted of corruption or other high crime, may, on information in the name of the State, be removed from office by the Supreme Court, or in such other manner as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 13. The judges of the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts shall, at stated times, receive a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 14. A competent number of justices of the peace shall be elected by the voters in each township in the several counties. They shall continue in office four years, and their powers and duties shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 15. All judicial officers shall be conservators of the peace in their respective jurisdictions.

SEC. 16. No person elected to any judicial office shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be eligible to any office of trust or profit under the State, other than a judicial office.

SEC. 17. The General Assembly may modify or abolish the Grand Jury system.

SEC. 18. All criminal prosecutions shall be carried on in the name, and by the authority of the State; and the style of all processes shall be, "The State of Indiana."

SEC. 19. Tribunals of conciliation may be established, with such powers and duties as shall be prescribed by law; or the powers and duties of the same may be conferred upon other courts of justice; but such tribunals or other courts, when sitting as such, shall have no power to render judgment to be obligatory on the parties unless they voluntarily submit their matters of difference and agree to abide the judgment of such tribunal or court.

SEC. 20. The General Assembly, at its first session after the adoption of this Constitution, shall provide for the appointment of three commissioners whose duty it shall be to revise, simplify and abridge the rules, practice, pleadings and forms of the courts of justice. And they shall provide for abolishing the distinct forms of action at law now in use; and that justice shall be administered in a uniform mode of pleading, without distinction between law and equity. And the General Assembly may, also, make it the duty of said commissioners to reduce into a systematic code the general statute law of the State; and said commissioners shall report the result of their labors to the General Assembly, with such recommendations and suggestions, as to the abridgement and amendment, as to said commissioners may seem necessary or proper. Provision shall be made by law for filling vacancies, regulating the tenure of office and the compensation of said commissioners.

SEC. 21. Every person of good moral character, being a voter, shall be entitled to admission to practice law in all courts of justice.

ARTICLE VIII.

EDUCATION.

SECTION 1. Knowledge and learning generally diffused throughout a community, being essential to the preservation of a free government, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to encourage, by all suitable means, moral, intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvement, and to provide by law for a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge, and equally open to all.

SEC. 2. The common school fund shall consist of the congressional township fund, and the lands belonging thereto;

The surplus revenue fund;

The saline fund, and the lands belonging thereto;

The bank tax fund, and the fund arising from the one hundred and fourteenth section of the charter of the State Bank of Indiana;

The fund to be derived from the sale of county seminaries, and the moneys and property heretofore held for such seminaries; from the fines assessed for breaches of the penal laws of the State; and from all forfeitures which may accrue;

All lands and other estate which shall escheat to the State for want of heirs or kindred entitled to the inheritance;

All lands that have been or may hereafter be granted to the State, where no special purpose is expressed in the grant, and the proceeds of the sales thereof; including the proceeds of the sales of the Swamp Lands granted to the State of Indiana by the act of Congress, of the 28th of September, 1850, after deducting the expense of selecting and draining the same;

Taxes on the property of corporations that may be assessed by the General Assembly for Common School purposes.

SEC. 3. The principal of the Common School Fund shall remain a perpetual fund, which may be increased, but shall never be diminished; and the income thereof shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of Common Schools, and to no other purpose whatever.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall invest, in some safe and profitable manner, all such portions of the Common School Fund as have not heretofore been entrusted to the several counties; and shall make provisions, by law, for the distribution, among the several counties, of the interest thereof.

SEC. 5. If any county shall fail to demand its proportion of such interest for Common School purposes, the same shall be reinvested for the benefit of such county.

SEC. 6. The several counties shall be held liable for the preservation of so much of the said fund as may be entrusted to them, and for the payment of the annual interest thereon.

SEC. 7. All trust funds held by the State shall remain inviolate, and be faithfully and exclusively applied to the purposes for which the trust was created.

SEC. 8. The General Assembly shall provide for the election, by the voters of the State, of a State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who shall hold his office for two years, and whose duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IX.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide by law for the support of Institutions for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb, and of the Blind; and, also, for the treatment of the Insane.

SEC. 2. The General Assembly shall provide Houses of Refuge for the correction and reformation of juvenile offenders.

SEC. 3. The County Boards shall have power to provide farms as an asylum for those persons who, by reason of age, infirmity, or other misfortune, have claims upon the sympathies and aid of society.

ARTICLE X.

FINANCE.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly shall provide, by law, for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation; and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, both real and personal, excepting such only for municipal, educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purposes, as may be specially exempted by law.

SEC. 2. All the revenues derived from the sale of any of the public works belonging to the State, and from the net annual income thereof, and any surplus that may, at any time, remain in the Treasury derived from taxation for general State purposes, after the payment of the ordinary expenses of the government, and of the interest on bonds of the State, other than bank bonds, shall be annually applied, under the direction of the General Assembly, to the payment of the principal of the public debt.

SEC. 3. No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in pursuance of appropriations made by law.

SEC. 4. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public money shall be published with the laws of each regular session of the General Assembly.

SEC. 5. No law shall authorize any debt to be contracted, on behalf of the State, except in the following cases: To meet casual deficits in the revenue; to pay the interest on the State debt; to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or, if hostilities be threatened, provide for public defense.

SEC. 6. No county shall subscribe for stock in any incorporated company, unless the same be paid for at the time of such subscription; nor shall any county loan its credit to any incorporated company, nor borrow money for the purpose of taking stock in any such company; nor shall the General Assembly ever, on behalf of the State, assume the debts of any county, city, town or township, nor of any corporation whatever.

SEC. 7. No law or resolution shall ever be passed by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana that shall recognize any liability of this State to pay or redeem any certificate of stock issued in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to provide for the funded debt of the State of Indiana, and for the completion of the Wabash and Erie Canal to Evansville," passed January 19, 1846, and an act supplemental to said act passed January 29, 1847, which by the provisions of the said acts, or either of them, shall be payable exclusively from the proceeds of the canal lands, and the tolls and revenues of the canal in said acts mentioned; and no such certificates of stocks shall ever be paid by this State.

[NOTE.—Agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the General Assembly, Regular Session of 1871, and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election. Agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each house of the General Assembly, Special Session of 1872. Submitted to the electors of the State by an act approved January 28, 1873. Ratified by a majority of the electors, at an election held on the 18th day of February, 1873. Declared a part of the Constitution by proclamation of Thomas A. Hendricks, Governor, dated March 7, 1873.]

ARTICLE XI.

CORPORATIONS.

SECTION 1. The General Assembly shall not have power to establish, or incorporate any bank or banking company, or moneyed institution, for the purpose of issuing bills of credit, or bills payable to order or bearer, except under the conditions prescribed in this Constitution.

SEC. 2. No bank shall be established otherwise than under a general banking law, except as provided in the fourth section of this article.

SEC. 3. If the General Assembly shall enact a general banking law, such law shall provide for the registry and countersigning, by an officer of State, of all paper credit designed to be circulated as money; and ample collateral security, readily convertible into specie, for the redemption of the same in gold or silver, shall be required; which collateral security shall be under the control of the proper officer or officers of the State.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly may also charter a bank with branches, without collateral security, as required in the preceding section.

SEC. 5. If the General Assembly shall establish a bank with branches, the branches shall be mutually responsible for each other's liabilities, upon all paper credit issued as money.

SEC. 6. The stockholders in every bank, or banking company, shall be individually responsible to an amount over and above their stock, equal to their respective shares of stock, for all debts or liabilities of said bank or banking company.

SEC. 7. All bills or notes issued as money, shall be, at all times, redeemable in gold or silver; and no law shall be passed, sanctioning, directly or indirectly, the suspension, by any bank or banking company, of specie payments.

SEC. 8. Holders of bank notes shall be entitled, in case of insolvency, to preference of payment over all other creditors.

SEC. 9. No bank shall receive, directly or indirectly, a greater rate of interest than shall be allowed by law to individuals loaning money.

SEC. 10. Every bank, or banking company, shall be required to cease all banking operations within twenty years from the time of its organization, and promptly thereafter to close its business.

SEC. 11. The General Assembly is not prohibited from investing the trust funds in a bank with branches; but in case of such investment, the safety of the same shall be guaranteed by unquestionable security.

SEC. 12. The State shall not be a stockholder in any bank, after the expiration of the present bank charter; nor shall the credit of the State ever be given, or loaned, in aid of any person, association, or corporation, nor shall the State hereafter become a stockholder in any corporation or association.

SEC. 13. Corporations, other than banking, shall not be created by special act, but may be formed under general laws.

SEC. 14. Dues from corporations, other than banking, shall be secured by such individual liability of the corporators, or other means, as may be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XII.

MILITIA.

SECTION 1. The militia shall consist of all able-bodied white male persons between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, except such as may be exempted by the laws of the United States, or of this State; and shall be organized, officered, armed, equipped and trained in such manner as may be provided by law.

SEC. 2. The Governor shall appoint the Adjutant, Quartermaster and Commissary Generals.

SEC. 3. All militia officers shall be commissioned by the Governor, and shall hold their offices not longer than six years.

SEC. 4. The General Assembly shall determine the method of dividing the militia into divisions, brigades, regiments, battalions and companies, and fix the rank of all staff officers.

SEC. 5. The militia may be divided into classes of sedentary and active militia in such manner as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 6. No person conscientiously opposed to bearing arms shall be compelled to do militia duty; but such person shall pay an equivalent for exemption; the amount to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XIII.

POLITICAL AND MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

SECTION 1. No political or municipal corporation in this State shall ever become indebted, in any manner or for any purpose, to any amount, in the aggregate exceeding two per centum on the value of taxable property within such corporation, to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes, previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations, in excess of such amount, given by such corporations, shall be void: Provided, That in time of war, foreign invasion, or other great public calamity, on petition of a majority of the property owners, in number and value, within the limits of such corporation, the public authorities, in their discretion, may incur obligations necessary for the public protection and defense, to such an amount as may be requested in such petition.

[The original Article 13 is stricken out and the amendment of March 24, 1881, inserted in lieu thereof.]

ARTICLE XIV.

BOUNDARIES.

SECTION 1. In order that the boundaries of the State may be known and established, it is hereby ordained and declared, that the State of Indiana is bounded on the east by the meridian line which forms the western boundary of the State of Ohio; on the south by the Ohio River, from the mouth of the Great Miami River to the mouth of the Wabash River; on the west, by a line drawn along the middle of the Wabash River, from its mouth to a point where a due north line, drawn from the town of Vincennes, would last touch the northwestern shore of said Wabash River; and thence by a due north line, until the same shall intersect an east and west line, drawn through a point ten miles north of the southern extreme of Lake Michigan; on the north, by said east and west line, until the same shall intersect the first-mentioned meridian line, which forms the western boundary of the State of Ohio.

SEC. 2. The State of Indiana shall possess jurisdiction, and sovereignty co-extensive with the boundaries declared in the preceding section; and shall have concurrent jurisdiction, in civil and criminal cases, with the State of Kentucky on the Ohio River, and with the State of Illinois on the Wabash River, so far as said rivers form the common boundary between this State and said States respectively.

ARTICLE XV.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SECTION 1. All officers whose appointment is not otherwise provided for in this Constitution, shall be chosen in such manner as now is, or hereafter may be, prescribed by law.

SEC. 2. When the duration of any office is not provided for by this Constitution, it may be declared by law; and if not so declared, such office shall be held during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment. But the General Assembly shall not create any office, the tenure of which shall be longer than four years.

SEC. 3. Whenever it is provided in this Constitution, or in any law which may be hereafter passed, that any officer, other than a member of the General Assembly, shall hold his office for any given term, the same shall be construed to mean that such officer shall hold his office for such term, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.

SEC. 4. Every person elected or appointed to any office under this Constitution shall, before entering on the duties thereof, take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of this State and of the United States, and also an oath of office.

SEC. 5. There shall be a seal of the State, kept by the Governor for official purposes, which shall be called the Seal of the State of Indiana.

SEC. 6. All commissions shall issue in the name of the State, shall be signed by the Governor, sealed by the State Seal, and attested by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 7. No county shall be reduced to an area less than four hundred square miles; nor shall any county under that area be further reduced.

SEC. 8. No lottery shall be authorized, nor shall the sale of lottery tickets be allowed.

SEC. 9. The following grounds owned by the State in Indianapolis, namely: the State House Square, the Governor's Circle, and so much of out-lot numbered one hundred and forty-seven as lies north of the arm of the Central Canal, shall not be sold or leased.

SEC. 10. It shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide for the permanent enclosure and preservation of the Tippecanoe Battle Ground.

ARTICLE XVI.

AMENDMENTS.

SECTION 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either branch of the General Assembly; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall, with the yeas and nays thereon, be entered on their journals and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election; and, if in the General Assembly so next chosen, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to submit such amendment or amendments to the electors of the State, and if a majority of said electors shall ratify the same, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of this Constitution.

SEC. 2. If two or more amendments shall be submitted at the same time, they shall be submitted in such manner that the electors shall vote for or against each of such amendments separately; and while such an amendment or amendments which shall have been agreed upon by one General Assembly shall be awaiting the action of the succeeding General Assembly, or of the electors, no additional amendment or amendments shall be proposed.

SCHEDULE.

This Constitution, if adopted, shall take effect on the first day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one, and shall supersede the Constitution adopted in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixteen. That no inconvenience may arise from the change in the government, it is hereby ordained as follows:

First. All laws now in force, and not inconsistent with this Constitution, shall remain in force until they shall expire or be repealed.

Second. All indictments, prosecutions, suits, pleas, plaints and other proceedings pending in any of the Courts, shall be prosecuted to final judgment and execution; and all appeals, writs of error, certiorari and injunctions shall be carried on in the several Courts, in the same manner as is now provided by law.

Third. All fines penalties and forfeitures, due or accruing to the State, or to any county therein, shall inure to the State, or to such county in the manner prescribed by law. All bonds executed to the State, or to any officer, in his official capacity, shall remain in force, and inure to the use of those concerned.

Fourth. All acts of incorporation for municipal purposes shall continue in force under this Constitution, until such time as the General Assembly shall, in its discretion, modify or repeal the same.

Fifth. The Governor, at the expiration of the present official term, shall continue to act until his successor shall have been sworn into office.

Sixth. There shall be a session of the General Assembly, commencing on the first Monday of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one.

Seventh. Senators now in office and holding over, under the existing Constitution, and such as may be elected at the next general election, and the Representatives then elected, shall continue in office until the first general election under this Constitution.

Eighth. The first general election under this Constitution shall be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two.

Ninth. The first election for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Judges of the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts, Clerk of the Supreme Court, Prosecuting Attorney, Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction, under this Constitution, shall be held at the general election in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two; and such of said officers as may be in office when this Constitution shall go into effect, shall continue in their respective offices until their successors shall have been elected and qualified.

Tenth. Every person elected by popular vote, and now in any office which is continued by this Constitution, and every person who shall be so elected to any such office before the taking effect of this Constitution (except as in this Constitution otherwise provided), shall continue in office until the term for which such person has been, or may be, elected, shall expire: Provided, That no such person shall continue in office after the taking effect of this Constitution, for a longer period than the term of such office in this Constitution prescribed.

Eleventh. On the taking effect of this Constitution, all officers thereby continued in office shall, before proceeding in the further discharge of their duties, take an oath or affirmation to support this Constitution.

Twelfth. All vacancies that may occur in existing offices prior to the first general election under this Constitution, shall be filled in the manner now prescribed by law.

Thirteenth. At the time of submitting this Constitution to the electors for their approval or disapproval, the article numbered thirteen, in relation to negroes and mulattoes, shall be submitted as a distinct proposition, in the following form: "Exclusion and Colonization of Negroes and Mulattoes," "Aye," or “No.” And if a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of said article, then the same shall form a part of this Constitution, otherwise it shall be void and form no part thereof.

Fourteenth. No article or section of this Constitution shall be submitted as a distinct proposition to a vote of the electors otherwise than as herein provided.

Fifteenth. Whenever a portion of the citizens of the counties of Perry and Spencer shall deem it expedient to form, of the contiguous territory of said counties, a new county, it shall be the duty of those interested in the organization of such new county, to lay off the same by proper metes and bounds of equal portions as nearly as practicable, not to exceed one-third of the territory of each of said counties. The proposal to create such new county shall be submitted to the voters of said counties, at a general election, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law. And if a majority of all the votes given at said election shall be in favor of the organization of said new county, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to organize the same out of the territory thus designated.

Sixteenth. The General Assembly may alter or amend the charter of Clarksville, and make such regulations as may be necessary for carrying into effect the objects contemplated in granting the same, and the funds belonging to said town shall be applied according to the intention of the grantor.

Done in Convention, at Indianapolis, the tenth day of February, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one; and of the independence of the United States, the seventy-fifth.

SUGGESTIONS AND OBSERVATIONS.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

It should be a matter of public felicitation that, after so many years of retrogression, Indiana has entered fully and fairly upon a debt paying era. Until the enactment of the present tax law by the Legislature of 1891, the State was running behind from a half to three-quarters of a million dollars annually. Not only was the public debt increasing steadily year by year, but the State was compelled to borrow money to meet the interest on the debt. With the enactment of the new law came a new order of things. Instead of an annual deficit, we began to meet the public debt as it matured without borrowing a dollar.

Since the meeting of the last General Assembly, $910,000 of the public debt has been extinguished. On April 1, 1893, $40,000 of bonds were taken up; on April 1, 1894, $370,000 were retired; and on November 1, 1894, $200,000 more were paid, making a total reduction of $910,000. It is the purpose of the Finance Board to take up not less than $300,000 of option bonds about the 1st of January, 1895, thus swelling the total bond liquidation by the present State administration to $1,210,000, a record of which the State, the entire people, may well be proud. At this writing the public debt is as follows: Domestic debt, $484,000; foreign debt, $7,436,615.12. Total bonded debt, $7,920,615.12.

There will fall due March 1, 1895,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. interest bonds aggregating \$400,000, which the Finance Board hopes to reduce to \$100,000 by the payment of \$300,000 the first year. There will mature April 1, 1895, \$585,000,  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. bonds; and May 1, 1895, \$500,000 more will become due and payable, making a total of \$1,485,000, less the \$300,000 to be paid January 1, that will have to be refunded. These obligations bear  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. interest, and I have no sort of doubt but they can be refunded at a rate not to exceed 3 per cent., readily. The Finance Board will take all the steps necessary to the refunding so that our successors will not be embarrassed and the credit of the State be maintained. On March 2, 1896, there will mature \$300,000  $3\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. bonds, which will, no doubt, be promptly paid. There will mature April 1, 1899, \$700,000 3 per cent. bonds, and on September 20, 1899, another \$700,000 will fall due. On this \$1,400,000 the State has now an option of paying at its pleasure.

REDUCE THE SCHOOL TAX LEVY TWO AND ONE HALF CENTS.

In my suggestions to the General Assembly of 1893 I had the honor to recommend a reduction of the school tax levy of 5 cents. I then showed that a levy of 11 cents under the new tax law would produce more revenue than did 16 cents under the old law. Then, as now, no one is asking for a dollar more school revenue than was produced by the 16-cent levy under the old order of things. The Legislature of two years ago reduced the levy  $2\frac{1}{2}$  cents. I now recommend an additional reduction of  $2\frac{1}{4}$  cents. Under the old law a 16-cent levy produced \$1,372,279.01, which sum was deemed adequate. Under the present law a  $13\frac{1}{2}$  cent levy yields, exclusive of the State school poll tax, \$1,758,118.83, which is \$385,839.82 more than is needed, and is just so much unnecessary and unjust burden on the people. On the assessment of 1893, an 11-cent levy would raise \$1,432,541.27, an increase of \$60,262.26 over the amount produced by a 16-cent levy under the old tax law. To this increase must be added about \$50,000 per year unexpended school revenue, which is required to be turned back into the common school fund to be reapportioned, as provided for by the act of March 3, 1893. Nothing is clearer than that the school levy should be reduced  $2\frac{1}{2}$  per cent.

INCREASE THE STATE DEBT SINKING FUND TO FOUR CENTS.

Two years ago I recommended the creation of a sinking fund for the gradual extinguishment of the public debt, and suggested that the levy be fixed at 4 cents. The General Assembly did provide for a sinking fund and fixed the levy at 3 cents. A 3-cent levy produces $387,542.38, a tidy sum, but hardly large enough. In my judgment the sinking fund levy should be increased to 4 cents. No fear need be had that large sums will accumulate in the hands of the State Treasurer. By law the Finance Board is required to apply the sinking fund and so much of the general fund as may be safely and advantageously employed in the extinguishment of the public debt. Furthermore, the State now has options on vastly more than it will be able to pay within half a dozen years.

REDUCE GENERAL FUND LEVY ONE CENT.

The estimate of receipts for the fiscal years 1895-96, printed further on, shows that the annual income of the State for that period will be $2,574,772.37, while the estimated expenditures are $1,959,950 for 1896 and $2,064,950 for 1897, leaving a balance of $614,822.37 and $509,822.37, respectively. This estimate of receipts is based upon the present tax levy of 10 cents for general fund and 5 cents for benevolent institution fund purposes. If the present taxable value of the State remains the same, a reduction of 2 cents in the levy for general fund purposes can be made and yet leave a balance in the treasury to the credit of these funds of $354,360.33 and $249,360.33, respectively, for the years mentioned.

During the year 1895 there will be a general reassessment of the property of the State for taxable purposes, and it may be there will be a slight reduction in the valuation. If such decrease should occur it is not probable that it would exceed 10 per cent. of the present valuation, which would be $130,000,000, and this would permit a reduction of 1 cent in the levy and still leave the balances as shown above. Therefore I suggest a reduction of 1 cent in the general fund levy.

MERGE BENEVOLENT FUND INTO GENERAL FUND.

There is now laid a benevolent fund tax of 5 cents for the purpose of caring for the benevolent and reformatory institutions. The levy is inadequate by about one-third, and the general fund has to be drawn upon to meet the deficiency. There never was any good reason for maintaining the benevolent fund as a separate fund, and much less so, seeing that it is wholly inadequate to the purposes for which it was created. I suggest that the benevolent fund be merged into the general fund.

I have recommended a reduction of the school levy of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  cents, a reduction of the general fund levy of 1 cent, and an increase in the sinking fund of 1 cent. This will show a net reduction of  $2\frac{1}{2}$  cents in the State levy, or a saving to the people in decreased taxation of \$325,577.56.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

The growth of the business of insurance in the State within the past twenty years has been both marvelous and gratifying. In 1873 there were few of the larger insurance companies operating in Indiana, and the total receipts to the State Treasury from this source aggregated but \$2,162.39. To-day there are doing business within our borders 16 home companies and 213 foreign companies, representing fire, life, accident and surety insurance, and they have paid into the treasury the past year \$140,263.75. It is with pardonable pride that I refer to the fact that within the past four years I have collected from insurance companies and turned into the State Treasury \$121,852.37 more than any of my predecessors ever did within the same length of time. The annual net increase is \$30,463.09, or a net gain of  $26\frac{1}{2}$  per cent. per annum. The total receipts to the State from this source for the past four years aggregate \$464,249.86. This large increase in insurance receipts is not due wholly to an enlarged volume of business done by the companies. A rigid and proper administration of the laws contributed largely to the result.

During the past four years, covering my entire incumbency in office, I have waged relentless and persistent warfare on "graveyard," "ground-hog," and unauthorized insurance companies. I have left no effort untried to drive from the State these vampires on the people, and it is a proud satisfaction to know that to-day the State is freer of them than ever before. In all I have publicly blacklisted and driven from the State 150 of these worthless and irresponsible companies, thus protecting the responsible companies who are duly authorized to do business in the State and who pay the State for the privilege of so doing. Nor is this all that this course has accomplished.

It has saved the people of Indiana hundreds of thousands of dollars annually and guaranteed to them valid and reliable insurance. Many blacklisted companies have threatened suit, and one—the Accident Lloyds of New York—has a suit now pending in which it is sought to recover $100,000 from me and $100,000 from Insurance Clerk Duke for alleged injury to business by virtue of being blacklisted. But I have no fear of an adverse termination of this suit, as I was clearly acting under the law, and was also fortified by an opinion of the Attorney-General.

It may be safely said that the business of insurance in Indiana is to-day on a higher plane than ever before in the State's history. Indeed the Insurance Department of the Hoosier Commonwealth has been lifted from an almost chaotic condition to the higher level of the more advanced States. It is respected by all insurance companies and is rated high among the best in the Union.

STATE BANKS.

The failure of nine banks of discount and deposit, shown in the last report of this office, were the first to occur since the enactment of the law of 1873. While these failures were brought about by an alliance with financial schemes that good banking would forbid, they have served the purpose of emphasizing two weaknesses in the present law. While this office is charged with the supervision of these institutions, the law simply requires examination without granting the power to enforce the correction of unsafe methods. The results desired from examinations can not be obtained without authority to correct evils that these disclose. I suggest that the law be so amended that this department be given the power to notify banks found to be observing unsafe practices or unsafe methods to desist, and upon failure to do so in a reasonable time to close the bank, pending an application by it for the appointment of a receiver.

Another weakness of the law developed by the financial troubles of 1893 is its failure to authorize any person to take charge of the assets of a suspended bank pending the appointment of a receiver. Its officers may have wrecked it by unsafe practices or through dishonesty, yet after suspension becomes necessary they are left in possession of the property of the bank to do with it as they may see fit—perhaps for days before application is made to the courts or before the courts can act in the premises.

A much needed amendment to the present law is one requiring the officers of a bank that suspends to advise this department of such fact and permitting it to take charge of the same until relieved by the appointment of a receiver.

Under the law as it now stands the bank examiner is authorized to charge $5 per day for making examinations, and is allowed $2 for every twenty-five miles necessarily traveled in making the same. This method often leads to disputes, beside being unjust to many of the banks. There is no reason why one bank should be charged fifteen or twenty dollars more for an examination than another bank with the same capital because it happens to be located one hundred or more miles farther away from the residence of the examiner than the other. If the present method of requiring the bank to pay this expense is to be continued, the best remedy would be to base the charge on the amount of capital invested, as is done by the federal government in the national bank law. The charges could be so graded as to be fair to the banks and at the same time fully compensate the examiner.

SAVINGS BANKS.

As the law is at present, there is no inducement to the class of persons who should manage savings banks to enter the field, as they are wholly without profit to those who must be responsible for their conduct. It has been repeatedly suggested that the law be so changed as to make stock banks of them, thus enabling the trustees to receive some compensation by way of dividends on the stock they may hold, for the time necessarily devoted to the management of their interest. If this be not deemed a wise change, some other method should be employed to encourage their organization. In large cities of the State, especially those that are manufacturing centers, they would accomplish much in teaching the people economy and thrift.

TRUST COMPANIES.

Under the law the Auditor of State is required to make, or cause to be made, an examination of these corporations every six months. The examinations made of the two older companies show them to be doing a safe and conservative business and strictly complying with the law. Their rapid growth shows the popularity with which they have been received and the wisdom of the act giving them existence in the State.

BUILDING AND LOAN DEPARTMENT.

Elsewhere in this report is presented in detail the story of the building and loan associations of the State—these popular savings banks of the people. There have reported 496 associations with an aggregate investment of $30,090,926.13, an increase of $2,552,864.19 over 1893, despite the panic. During the past year no association failed, some retired from business, and many new organizations sprang into being. The general condition of building and loan associations is healthy and the future is promising. The building and loan act of 1893 should be amended so as to permit at least one examination a year, and oftener if deemed advisable. Base examiner's charges on amount of assets. Extend the law so as to leave no doubt but that all forms of investment companies are amenable to the act. Do away with the thirty days' notice to president and secretary of association in failing to report.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

Elsewhere in this report is given in detail an intelligent and comprehensive showing of the Land Department, its operations during the past year, land owned by the State, etc., which will repay a perusal by those so inclined.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

In closing, and before I say good-bye officially, I desire to testify to the pleasant and unbroken relations, official and social, that have existed between all the outgoing State officers and myself. For their manifold kindnesses, their uniform urbanity, and considerate intercourse, I am under deep and lasting obligations. I shall carry with me through life the most pleasant memory of the years spent as a humble member of the State official family. I desire, in the strongest language at my command, to acknowledge my grateful obligations to my faithful and devoted corps of office assistants. A more courteous and competent force could not be found. Each has performed his prescribed duties faithfully, satisfactorily, well—and our separation now, after an unbroken service of four years, is like the breaking up of the ties of an affectionate comradeship.

ESTIMATE OF RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES FOR THE YEARS 1895, 1896, 1897.

Should the value of property for taxable purposes remain the same during 1896 and 1897 as now, viz.: $1,302,310,250, and the present tax levy of ten cents on the one hundred dollars for the General Fund of the State Treasury and five cents for the Benevolent Institution Fund is continued, and the receipts from all other sources remain the same, the total amount of revenue collected for each of the years 1895, 1896 and 1897 will be $2,574,772.37.

And shall the current expenses (including $105,000 for legislative expenses in 1895 and 1897), which means the expenses actually necessary to pay the permanent officers, departments and institutions and the interest on the public debt, it will require the sum of $2,064,950, leaving a balance of $509,822.37.

Specific appropriations, made by the last General Assembly, payable in the year 1895, amounting to $80,000, should be deducted from the balance for that year.

For the year 1896 the balance will be $105,000 larger, for in that year there will in all probability be no legislative session.

By a decision of the Supreme Court the incidental expenses of the State Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument are chargeable against the general fund and not against the appropriation or fund for that structure. This expense has amounted to about $12,000 a year, but may be increased, as under the Supreme Court decision, there is no limitation to this expenditure.

The estimate submitted does not comprehend anything for extraordinary and statutory expenditures, but is based on the actual necessary expenses of the State Government.

STATE BANKS.

---

DISCOUNT AND DEPOSIT.

Herewith is submitted a statement showing the condition of the banks of discount and deposit operating under the State law at the close of business October 31, 1894.

There are ninety banks operating under this law at the present time, the statements of eighty-eight of which are included in this report. Two banks, although incorporated, did not begin business until November 1.

During the fiscal year banks have been incorporated at the following places :

Auburn, Farmers' Bank.
Morristown, Union State Bank.
New Palestine, Farmers' State Bank.
Otterbein, State Bank.
Petersburg, Pike County State Bank.
Roachdale, Roachdale Bank.

The charter of the Adams County Bank, of Decatur, having expired, it was reincorporated under the name of the Old Adams County Bank.

The following named banks have retired from the system :

Morristown, Commercial Bank.
Ridgeville, Ridgeville Bank.
Veedersburg, State Bank of Veedersburg.

Reference to the accompanying statements will show these banks to be in a prosperous condition, with a considerable increase in business as compared with last year.

SAVINGS BANKS.

A tabulated statement of the condition of the several savings banks at the close of business October 31, 1894, is also submitted. It will be seen that they have largely recovered the deposits lost during the panic of 1893, and are now almost back to the condition they were in prior to that time. These institutions have been remarkably successful, and are held in high favor in the communities where located. While building associations have largely supplanted this class of banks, yet they meet a demand that the former can not supply, and their formation should be encouraged.

TRUST COMPANIES.

Under the act of the General Assembly of 1893, authorizing the formation of trust companies, with powers to do all kinds of business incident to these institutions, three such corporations have been organized—the Indiana Trust Company and Union Trust Company, both of Indianapolis, and the Terre Haute Trust Company, of Terre Haute. Statements showing the condition on October 31, 1894, of the two former will be found appended herewith. The latter company had not fairly begun business at the close of the fiscal year, and for that reason no statement of its condition is given.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION DEPARTMENT.

In compliance with the requirements of section 19 of the act of the General Assembly of March 3, 1893, providing for the regulation of foreign and domestic building, loan fund, savings or investment associations, a compilation of the reports of all such associations as have complied with said law is herewith submitted.

The report of this department for 1893 contained the first compilation giving an accurate showing of the condition of this class of corporations doing business in Indiana ever before published. A study of the comparative statements accompanying this report will reveal many interesting facts concerning these associations.

Notwithstanding the severe financial stringency existing throughout the country during the period covered by this report, and the fact that thousands of those who are the patrons of these "banks" were out of employment, they have increased the volume of their business $2,252,864.19 during the financial year, and in all their affairs they have seemingly prospered. The amount of loans on mortgage and other security has increased $2,016,144.64. The amount due the running or installment shareholder on account of dues paid by him, and dividends and undivided profits to his credit, has increased $2,432,333.74, and the investments in paid-up and prepaid stock with the undrawn dividends has grown $355,822.68. The fund for contingent losses is $8,577.66 larger than a year ago. While the statement shows a large increase in the amount of dues, interest, premiums and fines delinquent, the comparison is not a fair one for the reason that in last year's reports this was not called for and only a few associations showed the amount. This and the increase in the real estate held by the associations are the only evidences of lack of prosperity among these institutions. In the statements of receipts and disbursements a fair comparison can not be had for the reason that last year the reports of many associations showed the receipts and disbursements for the whole period of their existence.

These statements show that a large amount of loans have been repaid, and this is accounted for by reason of the fact that many who were borrowers finding themselves unable to meet the regular weekly or monthly payments of dues, interest and premiums, have shifted their indebtedness to straight loans. The heavy increase in withdrawals, evidenced by the statement of disbursements, shows the only effects of the hard times made visible by these reports. This statement also shows that there has been paid to members on account of maturing stock $833,500.79, and that the associations still owe to their members on this account $104,781.80. This showing only includes the associations that are still doing business and would be largely increased could the department require reports from associations which have retired from business. There were twenty-nine such associations, and nearly all of them were operated on the terminating plan and had matured their stock.

While there has been an increase of 11,939 shares of all kinds of stock in force, the total membership has slightly decreased. No associations organized under the laws of other States have complied with the law and been licensed to do business.

The records of the department show that on June 30, 1894, there were 501 associations amenable to reports, and that of this number only five have failed to report. The Citizens' Building and Loan Association of Columbus reported too late to be included in this tabulation. Forty-three new associations were formed and twenty-nine ceased doing business during the year.

The Sheridan Building and Loan Association was examined upon petition of shareholders during the year. It was found to be solvent. Its affairs are now being wound up by agreement of the shareholders.

The department has examined several associations at the request of the directors of the same, and they were all found to be solvent and in good condition, with the exception of the Russellville Building and Loan Association. A shortage was found which was made good, and the association has since been wound up.

COUNTIES WITHOUT ASSOCIATIONS.

In the counties of Brown, Crawford, Lagrange, Marshall, Ohio, Owen, Pulaski, Starke and Switzerland there are no associations incorporated.

CHANGES OF NAMES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

The name of the Hoosier Building, Loan and Investment Association has been changed to the Dwelling Building Association; the Delaware Street Building and Loan Association to the Government Building and Loan Institution; the National Savings and Loan Association to the International Savings and Loan Association; and the New People's Savings Association to the State House Building Association.

ASSOCIATIONS FAILING TO REPORT.

Last year the law was new, and as many associations had failed to keep their accounts in such shape as to readily make the reports required, it was expected that many would be slow in preparing them, but with that experience it was presumed that the reports of this year would be promptly filed. Contrary to expectations, secretaries were in many cases more dilatory than they were last year, but the department not desiring to put the associations to expense or annoy their officers with prosecution, has used every persuasion within its power to induce secretaries to file their reports, and has succeeded with the exception of the following associations:

Jeffersonville—Falls City Savings and Loan Association, A. J. Howard, Secretary.

Jeffersonville—Union Savings and Loan Association, T. B. Rader, Secretary.

Nappanee—Citizens' Building, Loan and Savings Association, P. A. Early, Secretary.

Petersburg—People's Building and Loan Association, G. L. West, Secretary.

Seymour—Seymour Mutual Building and Loan Association, William Meseke, Secretary.

The law gives ample time for making these reports, and in justice to secretaries who readily comply with its provisions, those who in the future fail to file their reports in the prescribed time should be promptly prosecuted and the association examined. While the law was new and officials were not familiar with the system of accounting necessary to make succinct and intelligent reports, it was deemed the wiser policy not to render the law unpopular by an arbitrary use of the power given to the supervising officer. But no such excuse now exists and delinquent associations should be made to realize that the law must be complied with. If directors would give attention to these matters this trouble would be in many cases avoided.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

Herewith is submitted a report of the transactions of the Land Department, so far as they relate to matters of record. The principal work of this department is confined to answering letters of inquiry relating to land entries and original surveys. Hundreds of such letters are received annually, and the investigations required consume much time and labor.

There still remains in this office a large number of patents, conveying Wabash and Erie Canal lands. The law directs that these be recorded in the county where the land is situate, and until this is done there will be a defect in the title to these lands. Patents, some issued by the State as early as 1832, and others by the trustees of the canal as late as 1876, are here for lands in Allen, Benton, Carroll, Cass, Clay, Crawford, Daviess, Dubois, Fulton, Gibson, Greene, Huntington, Jasper, Knox, Kosciusko, Lake, Lawrence, Marshall, Martin, Miami, Monroe, Newton, Noble, Orange, Owen, Parke, Perry, Pike, Posey, Pulaski, Putnam, Spencer, Sullivan, Vanderburgh, Vermillion, Wabash, Warrick, White and Whitley counties. It is hoped that the owners of canal lands in the counties named, who have not yet obtained their patents and had them recorded, will do so at once in order that their title may be made perfect.

The records in this office show that patents have been issued for several hundred tracts of Swamp and University Lands. Most of these tracts have undoubtedly been sold, but purchasers have neglected to obtain patents for same. This failure leads to trouble when the present owners desire to sell or mortgage their lands. Such owners should send to this office their certificates of purchase and obtain patents.

LIST OF LANDS REPORTED AS BELONGING TO THE STATE, UNDER ACTS OF 1883
AND 1889, AND STILL REMAINING UNSOLD.

LANDS HELD BY THE STATE BY DEEDS.

Marion County.

The east half of the strip of land lying south of the cross-cut of the Central Canal, in the city of Indianapolis, more particularly described as follows, to wit: Commencing at the junction of Market and West streets, and running thence west on the line of Market street to the western boundary of the land known on the plat of the city of Indianapolis as "the reservation;" thence north to the southern base of the embankment of said canal; thence east along said canal embankment to West street; thence south to Market street, the place of beginning. The title to this tract of land was held to be in the State in the suit of the State of Indiana vs. The Water Works Company of Indianapolis, by a decree of the Hendricks Circuit Court, rendered at the January term, 1879.

This tract is held by the Indianapolis Benevolent Society, under a lease executed by M. D. Manson, Auditor of State, April 1, 1880.

All that portion of the southeast quarter of section one (1), in township fifteen (15) north, range two (2) east, contained in the following boundaries, beginning in the Rockville road, at the southwest corner of said quarter section, running thence north forty (40) chains and twenty-five (25) links to the center of said section; thence east along the north line of said quarter section twenty one (21) chains and forty-five (45) links; thence south twenty (20) chains; thence east six (6) chains and seventy-five (75) links; thence south twenty (20) chains and twenty-five (25) links to the south line of said section; thence west along said south line in said Rockville road twenty-eight (28) chains and twenty (20) links to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres, more or less.

This tract was originally purchased as the site of the House of Refuge. When the location of that institution was removed to near Plainfield the land was sold to William J. McCaslin, who failed to make payment therefor, and the title to the same was in continuous litigation until affirmed to be in the State by decision of the Supreme Court, rendered at the November term, 1884.

The act of 1889 authorized the sale of this land and it was sold, but in a suit for possession the Marion Circuit Court set the sale aside on the ground of irregularity in sale.

Pat-tison, cashier of the bank, stating the bank's side of the case. Mr. Johnson, County Assessor, appeared for the County Board of Review and made a statement and the matter was taken under advisement. Thereupon the Board took a recess until 2 o'clock P. M.

---

MONDAY, August 27, 1894, 2 o'clock P. M.

The Board reconvened with all the members present excepting Governor Matthews and W. R. Myers, Secretary of State. In the absence of the Governor, Mr. Henderson presided.

The appeal of Myron Campbell, cashier of the South Bend National Bank, from the decision of the County Board of Review of St. Joseph County, was taken up. There being no appearances the Secretary read the papers in the appeal to the Board, and the following action was taken:

In the matter of the appeal of Myron Campbell, cashier of the South Bend National Bank, from the decision of the County Board of Review of St. Joseph County, in relation to the assessment of bank stock owned by Myron Campbell, Marion Campbell and William P. Baker,

Ordered, That the prayer of the petition be refused for the reason that it is not shown that the appellants have no other credits from which they can deduct their bona fide indebtedness, save and except the stock in said National Bank.

The following orders were made:

In the matter of the appeal of Henry Gray & Co., of Gosport, from the decision of the County Board of Review of Owen County, in relation to the assessment as fixed by said Board:

Ordered, That the prayer of the petition be not granted and that the action of the County Board of Review be sustained.

In the matter of the appeal of the Aurora National Bank from the decision of the County Board of Review of Dearborn County:

Ordered, That the prayer of the petition be not granted, and that the action of the County Board of Review be sustained.

Thereupon the Board adjourned until Tuesday, August 28, 1894, at 10 o'clock A. M.

The Secretary submitted a communication in regard to the appeal of the Wabash Natural Gas Company, and on motion the Secretary was directed to subpoena Clarence L. Henley, Secretary of the Wabash Natural Gas Company, to appear before the Board.

The appeal of Jacob P. Dunn from the decision of the County Board of Review of Marion County as to the assessment of the Indianapolis Water Company was taken up. S. O. Pickens, representing the Indianapolis Water Company, moved to dismiss the appeal for the following reasons: 1. That it was not taken in time. 2. That the Board has no jurisdiction. Which motion, after consideration by the Board, was overruled. After hearing evidence the matter was taken under advisement.

The appeal of Charles O'Rourke, County Assessor of Pulaski County, from the decision of the County Board of Review of Pulaski County, as to the assessment of the Indiana Pipe Line Company, was taken up. T. M. Towl, agent for the Pipe Line Company, entered a protest on behalf of the Indiana Pipe Line Company against the hearing of the appeal on the ground that the appellant is the County Assessor of Pulaski County and has acted on this property once; that he has not complied with the law, section 114, which requires notice to be given to the company to appear before the County Board of Review if any addition is contemplated to the assessment of the property. After consideration the Board held that the appeal was properly before them. Statements were made and evidence heard and Mr. Towl, on behalf of the Indiana Pipe Line Company, read a written protest against the Board hearing the appeal, which was filed. The matter was then taken under advisement.

Thereupon the Board adjourned until Wednesday, August 29, 1894, at 10 o'clock A. M.

It was further ordered that the Auditor of State draw his warrants on the Treasurer of State in favor of the Secretary for the expenses of the Board and the services of the Secretary of the Board in preparing the papers, appeals, reports of county officers to the Board, subpoenaing witnesses before the Board, preparing the report of the proceedings of the Board, spreading the same upon the records, having the same published and distributed to the counties and expenses of assistants, express charges and postage, and in favor of Johnson and Metcalf for stenographic reports of the proceedings of the Board. .

Thereupon the Board adjourned.

CLAUDE MATTHEWS,

Attest :

Chairman of the Board.

JOSEPH T. FANNING,

Secretary of the Board.

Hon. J. O. Henderson, Auditor of State :

It is hereby certified that the foregoing record from page 1 to page 120, inclusive, is the true, full and complete record of the proceedings of the State Board of Tax Commissioners, organized under the act entitled "An act concerning taxation, repealing all laws in conflict therewith, and declaring an emergency," approved March 6, 1891, and that the same is a correct statement of the rates finally determined by said Board to be added to or deducted from the listed, or assessed, valuation of each class of property in the several counties, and also the amounts assessed by said Board, and the valuations made by said Board for the year 1894.

CLAUDE MATTHEWS,

Governor of Indiana, and Chairman of the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

JOSEPH T. FANNING,

Deputy Auditor of State, and Secretary of the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

STATE OF INDIANA, }
OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE. }

I, J. O. Henderson, Auditor of State of the State of Indiana, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the record of the proceedings of the State Board of Tax Commissioners; and that the same contains a true copy of the actions of said Board in fixing the assessments of the several corporations, firms and individuals therein mentioned; and the orders of said Board concerning the appeals taken from the orders of the several Boards of Review of the several counties of the State; and of the valuations and assessments of the railroad property denominated "Railroad Track," "Rolling Stock," and "Improvements on Right of Way," located, owned and operated by the several railroads in the State of Indiana, and the assessments and valuations of the several telegraph, telephone, sleeping car and express companies doing business in the State of Indiana, as required by the supplemental tax act of 1893, as fixed and valued by the State Board of Tax Commissioners for the year 1894, and as certified to me by the Chairman and Secretary of said Board on the 14th day of September, 1894.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I hereunto set my hand and affix my official seal, at the city of Indianapolis [SEAL.] this 14th day of September, 1894.

J. O. HENDERSON,
Auditor of State.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

---

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Dec. 1, 1894.

To the HON. CLAUDE MATTHEWS, Governor of Indiana:

DEAR SIR—I have the honor of herewith transmitting to you the biennial report of the Board of Trustees of the Indiana University for the fiscal years ending October 31, 1893, and October 31, 1894.

The progress of the University during the past two years has been gratifying to all friends of higher education. This progress has been not chiefly in the number of students, but much more in the increasing favorable recognition of the University among the educators of the country. The University is known to be one of the most progressive of our institutions, and its peculiar organization of work has attracted wide attention and imitation.

The matter of numbers is in itself no test of the value or the success of an institution of learning, for the most advanced students in any department of study are few. It can, however, be said that the best students will go where the best work is done, and the Indiana University will never lack for numbers so long as its instruction is thorough, and its work is abreast of modern thought and modern methods.

More important than the fact of the increase of numbers is the fact of steady improvement in the quality of the work done by professors and students. The reputation of the University, both within and without the State, has been constantly rising. No well informed person now speaks with disrespect of the work done in the University, while among college men throughout the country, the Indiana University is regarded as one of the most promising schools in the United States. It may be further said that the Indiana University is especially a school for persons of limited means. The great majority of the students are not rich, and fully three-fourths of them have earned, by their own work, much or all of the money spent on their education. Connected with this lack of money for lavish expenditures is the fact that in no institution are the students, as a body, more earnest, or their moral tone higher, than in the State University.

Seventeen departments of work are now organized, each department representing some great subject in which three or four years of work are offered. The scope of these subjects, as illustrating the great fields of knowledge open to the young men and women of Indiana, is indicated by the following enumeration: (1) Greek, (2) Latin, (3) Romance Languages, (4) Germanic Languages, (5) English, (6) European History, (7) American History, (8) Economics and Social Science, (9) Philosophy, (10) Pedagogics, (11) Pure Mathematics, (12) Physics, (13) Chemistry, (14) Geology, (15) Zoölogy, (16) Botany, (17) Law. With this presentation of subjects it is evident that our young people can have a very wide range of choice in training. It is considered no longer a tenable proposition that all kinds of minds demand the same kind of training. There is the greatest diversity of gifts, and this must be provided for in any rational system of education.

The only purpose of education is to develop power, and this can be developed by the proper study of any subject, but is much aided if that subject has the consent of the pupil's taste. The widest liberty is, therefore, given by the University in the selection of subjects. However, there are groups of subjects which prominently stand for culture, and a certain amount of selection from these groups is required.

It is shown that distorted courses are practically unknown; that the proportion among subjects is practically what it was under prescription; that German among languages holds the first place in numbers of students, but the Greek shows the most graduates; that such studies as language, history and economics attract a far larger student body than do either the physical or biological sciences; that very few students graduate with only the minimum requirement. Better results than these which have been tabulated are those which show that this policy has improved the whole student body, by developing self-reliance and that interest which comes from responsibility, and has wonderfully improved teaching through the stimulus of interested learners.

It is these methods and results which have called attention to the University. It will be remembered that Indiana University no longer maintains any preparatory department, none of the work of the high schools or of other parts of the public school system being now duplicated in the University. Its work begins where that of the commissioned high schools ends and it is constantly becoming more intimately connected with these schools. That this relationship is becoming more widely recognized throughout the State is testified by the fact that during the present year eighty-one of our ninety-two counties have sent pupils from their schools to the University.

In comparing the attendance at the University with that of other institutions it must be remembered that the University maintains no preparatory or professional schools of any kind, excepting that of law, and that in these various schools will be found the largest part of the attendance of the universities that maintain them.

A tabulated view of the attendance for the last twelve years will show the development of the University within recent years :

1884 .....	144.....	21
1885 .....	156.....	26
1886.....	202.....	20
1887.....	263.....	22
1888.....	275.....	39
1889 .....	300.....	41
1890.....	321.....	47
1891.....	394.....	75
1892.....	497.....	70
1893.....	576.....	68
1894.....	633.....	76
1895 .....	*740.....	85

It will be noticed that the attendance has been nearly doubled within the last four years, and this has necessitated a large increase in the force of instruction and an overwhelming demand for room.

---

*Estimated from those now in attendance.

In everything that goes to make a university, such as numbers in college classes, variety of subjects presented, method of work, opportunities for advanced and original work, Indiana University stands very high among the universities of neighboring States; but in the matter of material equipment and income, it stands very low. A study of the following table will show that the State of Indiana can show more for every dollar it has invested in its University than any neighboring State; and it will also indicate what results the State may hope for when it takes a financial interest in the University commensurate with its own resources. The following is the showing:

W. F. 1892.

I desire to call careful attention also to the following extract from the President's report to the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan for 1891. President Angell by his long service is more competent than any other man to speak of the position of State Universities in the west:

"While we can not but be gratified by the growth of this University during the last twenty years, we also observe with great satisfaction that there has been rapid development of the State Universities generally throughout the west. Their progress, and we may say in the case of almost every one, their assured success, are proofs that the principal on which this Institution was founded is sound, and makes it reasonably certain that the great universities of the west and southwest are, as a rule, to be those established and supported by the State. They have all frequently and gratefully testified to the helpful influence of this University upon their life. They have, in a large degree, followed our methods. In their success and in their promise we can heartily rejoice. From their increasing strength we also draw strength. Every State from Ohio to California and from North Dakota to Texas now has its State University. Some of these institutions have encountered great difficulties and bitter opposition. But in almost every State of the west, the State university is the best endowed, the best equipped and the most universally attended institution of higher education in the State. The objections raised to them at the outset have proved to be in the main groundless. The States are committed to their support by the large expenditures already made upon them and by the power of public sentiment, which naturally looks with favor on the universities that offer the best type of higher education in arts, in technology and in the professions, almost without money and without price, to every young man and every young woman. While in the east, the higher education will continue to be furnished by institutions resting on private endowments, in the west and southwest, though similarly endowed colleges will flourish and do a useful work, the great universities will almost exclusively be those sustained by the States."

The pressing needs of Indiana University are as follows:

1. ADDITIONAL BUILDINGS.—With the completion of Kirkwood Hall, two of the departments will still be in basements never designed for class-room work. Four of the professors will have their rooms in an attic, and six of the teachers will still have their classes in the library. No adequate assembly room is to be found on the grounds of the University, there being no provision for large assemblies. The University needs an assembly room, a science building, a gymnasium, a building for history and political science and English and a general heating plant. These should cost not less than $250,000.

2. ADDITIONAL INCOME.—It goes without saying that the increase of thirty per cent. on the number of students since the last meeting of the Legislature makes an increase in our appropriation for professors' salaries necessary. Not only is the additional appropriation for additional teachers necessary, but the great demand for our teachers in other institutions makes it necessary that we should pay some of our faculty more money. The best men are the cheapest men in the long run. During the past four years Indiana University has lost fifteen professors who are now getting outside the State $1,000 more than twice the salaries received in Indiana University.

3. ADDITIONAL LIBRARY FUNDS.—The entire work of the University depends upon its library more than upon any other one kind of equipment. It will be remembered that the library was completely destroyed in 1883. Since that time the attempt has been made to keep up with current publications, and to complete a few sets of periodical publications. Special provision, however, should be made that will at once enable the library to somewhat extensively complete valuable sets of periodicals. It would, therefore, be a very wise measure to secure at once for the library of the University, by a special appropriation, a sufficient equipment of books and periodicals to make it useful and attractive to advanced students and investigators. Very respectfully yours,

ISAAC JENKINSON,

TRUSTEE'S REPORT.

---

PURDUE UNIVERSITY,
LAFAYETTE, IND., Dec. 1, 1894. }

HON. CLAUDE MATTHEWS, Governor of Indiana:

The unusual events in the history of the past year at Purdue University seem to warrant more specific comment on the part of the Board of Trustees than is customary in submitting its annual report.

It is now some ten years since the authorities of the institution directed their attention to the development of special courses in engineering. From a very insignificant beginning and in response to an apparently genuine demand on the part of the public as well as students, these engineering courses have grown, in a few years time, to be a prominent and distinctive feature of the University, attracting by their thoroughness and practical character the favorable comments of the profession and the attendance of many students from even remote distances.

To meet this growing demand the faculty has exerted itself in the careful planning of courses of study, embodying both theory and utility; and those directly connected with these departments have designed and installed shops and laboratories, including not only excellent means for instruction, but many new and original devices for study and research in engineering problems.

By this slow method of growth and adaptation of means to desired ends, the departments have been developed with economy, both as regards money and energy. Moreover, the courses as they have been developed are no experiment, but are adapted to genuine wants and are successfully meeting the same.

The increasing number of students applying for these courses and the accumulation of machinery and apparatus employed in the same, made the provision of more extensive quarters necessary. The unconditional gift of $35,000 by Amos Heavilon was set aside by the Trustees for this purpose, and by the generosity of the Legislature of 1893, $50,000 was added to this sum.

The Engineering building was begun March 27, 1893; the shops and laboratories were ready for students early in the fall of the same year; the exterior was completed on December 23, and the interior was finished and ready for the dedication on January 19, 1894. The description of the details of the building will be found elsewhere. As completed and equipped on the day of its dedication, it represented a money value of $180,000. In addition to this the value of the results of study and experience of the engineering professors embodied in the designs and arrangement of the entire plant can hardly be estimated. The building also contained the records of much investigation which had been carried out in the laboratories and which had not been published, as well as private papers and books belonging to the professors.

The dedication of the building on January 19 was a noteworthy affair, attracting the attention of technical circles throughout the country as well as many complimentary remarks from the press. Four days later a fire, which, in its origin and progress, was beyond the power of any to prevent, destroyed the entire structure and contents, except the western wing containing the wood-working shop and foundry.

This disaster, wiping out in a single night the results of many years' economies and plans, striking a blow at the very policy of the institution, seemed to those best acquainted with the conditions to be a fatal one. For not only was the property loss apparently irrecoverable, but there were well grounded fears that the uncertainty and delay in restoration would result in a loss of the prestige so honorably won to the institution and a diversion of its student constituency in other directions. These fears were emphasized by the fact that no immediate aid was in prospect, either from individuals or from the State. The situation was a crisis in the life and success of the institution.

From this danger the University has been rescued only by a display of remarkable energy, boldness and foresight on the part of President Smart and his co-workers. It was at once clear that to retain the allegiance of the students, the shops and laboratories must be restored immediately, and that, too, in such a manner as to silence any unfavorable criticism in comparison with their former character. The only funds available for such restoration was the sum of $47,500 received as insurance on the destroyed building and contents—about one-fourth their original value. It was, for a time, hoped that some aid from local or private sources might come to hand, but the failure of all prospects in this direction, after considerable encouragement, only served to render the situation more disheartening.

In the face of these obstacles, work was begun at once upon the removal of the ruins, followed by the reconstruction of the shops and laboratories and the installation of their equipment, all being accomplished in season for the accommodation of incoming students in September of this year, seven months after the fire. To accomplish this has required a vast amount of work from the engineering professors in planning the details and making improvements upon former arrangements, where experience had suggested the same. This work has been done under peculiarly difficult conditions in the absence of their destroyed books, notes and data; deprived of the use of conveniences and obliged meantime to provide for classes under unusual and trying circumstances.

The opening of the school year has shown to returning students that they have suffered no permanent loss. No work prescribed in the catalogue will have been omitted from the course of any individual, and it can truly be said that the restored building and equipment is superior to the original.

As an executive of this work President Smart has shown an energy, a wisdom and courage which even his former efforts in behalf of the University have not foreshown. To him is ultimately due the credit of having delivered the institution from its crisis. He has demonstrated to the public and to his students that Purdue is to continue to stand among the best of its kind, worthy of all confidence.

From the accompanying report by President Smart it will be noted that contributions to the value of upwards of $30,000 have been made by members of the faculty and manufacturers. The value of that part of the building which has been restored, with its contents, is not less than $130,000, to provide for which it has been necessary to borrow money from other University funds, in consequence of which a quasi-indebtedness of $25,468.16 has been incurred, which the Legislature will be asked to reimburse. Moreover, the main portion of the original building intended for use as drawing and recitation rooms has not been restored, although no less essential to the ultimate success of the work. To provide for these contingencies in recognition and extension of the self-sacrificing efforts already put forth at the University, we ask the serious attention of the Legislature.

In view of all these facts we cannot too heartily commend to your attention the details of the accompanying report of the President of the University.

C. B. STUART,
President Board Trustees.

PURDUE UNIVERSITY,
LAFAYETTE, IND., November 1, 1894. }

To the Honorable, the Secretary of Agriculture, and to the Honorable, the Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C.:

I have the honor to submit the report of Purdue University for the year ending June 30, 1894, as provided for by section 3 of an act entitled, "An act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, established under the provisions of an act of Congress, approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two," approved August thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety.

I also submit the Report of the Treasurer of Purdue University, as required by section 2 of said act for the same period.

JAMES H. SMART,
President.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

---

The law of the State requires the Trustees of Purdue University to submit a biennial report concerning the operations of Purdue University, and that report is due during the fall next preceding the biennial session of the Legislature.

The act of Congress under which Purdue University was established requires an annual report. This annual report was made in 1893, and since the law of the State requires the present report to cover a period of two years it will include the essential details found in the previous report.

ATTENDANCE FOR THE YEAR 1892-93.

The whole number of students in attendance during the year ending June 30, 1893, was 677, classified as follows:

Graduates.....	27
Seniors .....	46
Juniors.....	87
Sophomores.....	138
Freshmen.....	151
School of Pharmacy .....	87
Winter School of Agriculture .....	28
Irregular and Special.....	18

Total.....	677

ATTENDANCE DURING THE YEAR 1893-94.

The whole number of students in attendance during the year ending June 30, 1894, was 682, classified as follows:

Graduates .....	25
Seniors .....	73
Juniors .....	104
Sophomores.....	119
Freshmen.....	166
School of Pharmacy .....	85
Winter School of Agriculture.....	29
Irregular and Special .....	25

STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES REPRESENTED, 1893-94.

The States and countries represented in the institution during the present year are as follows:

Arkansas,	Massachusetts,	Oregon,	Washington,
Georgia,	Michigan,	Pennsylvania,	West Virginia,
Illinois,	Minnesota,	South Dakota,	Wisconsin,
Indiana,	Missouri,	Tennessee,	Canada,
Iowa,	New Mexico,	Texas,	Germany,
Kentucky,	New York,	Vermont,	Japan,
Maryland,	Ohio,	Virginia,	Spain.
Total, 28.

The only points worthy of remark in respect to the attendance are:

1. The number in the Preparatory Department became so small that it was decided to abolish it at the end of the last college year.

2. The attendance was more generally distributed throughout the country than ever before.

PRESENT VALUE OF PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

Previously reported in 18th annual report.....	$489,251 42
New shops erected and reconstructed in 1894, not including the three story front.....	20,000 00
Value of Locomotive Annex.....	2,000 00
Improvements in Electrical Laboratory.....	4,500 00
Value of new machinery in Engineering Labor- atory .....	18,000 00
Total .....	$533,751 42

THE NEW ENGINEERING LABORATORY.

In September, 1892, Mr. Amos Heavilon, a farmer citizen of Clinton County, gave to Purdue University securities and real estate which he valued at thirty-five thousand dollars. This was given for the purpose of aiding the University in erecting much needed shops.

The General Assembly of 1893 appropriated fifty thousand dollars for the same purpose, with the proviso that twenty-five thousand dollars should be paid during the year beginning

November 1, 1893, and twenty-five thousand during the year beginning November 1, 1894. The first installment was paid in December, 1893, and the University was enabled to anticipate the second payment through the aid of the banks, and was thus enabled to place the building under immediate contract.

The building was erected, equipped and opened January 20, 1894, at a cost of seventy-nine thousand dollars for building and furniture. The old engineering laboratory formed a part of the new building; this made the value of the entire structure about ninety-five thousand dollars. The equipment of the engineering laboratory and the shop equipment moved from the old building, together with recent additions, made the total value of the equipment about eighty thousand dollars, making the total value of the building and contents at completion one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars. The building was one of the most imposing on the campus. The following is a description of the structure and its equipment taken from our last annual catalogue :

THE BUILDING.

This building was finished in January, 1894, and consists of a front three stories in height, of brick with stone trimmings, and of several wings one story in height. The entire structure has floor space of more than an acre, and its extreme limits are 388 feet from east to west and 234 feet from north to south. The building is heated and ventilated thoroughly by the Sturtevant indirect system, and so arranged that an abundance of light is given to each room.

The building is designed for the accommodation of the Departments of Mechanical Engineering, Civil Engineering and Practical Mechanics. It contains four offices, four recitation rooms, a lecture room, a museum, a field-instrument room, a stereotomy room, a model room, two drawing rooms, an engineering laboratory, four shop laboratories and a boiler room. The drawing rooms and the several laboratories are completely equipped for doing a wide range of work, and for the accommodation of a large number of students.

THE EQUIPMENT.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING LABORATORY.

Triple-Expansion Engine. A 100-horse-power Harris-Corliss triple-expansion engine has been designed and constructed especially for this laboratory. The engine cylinders are 8, 15 and 22 inches in diameter respectively, by 24 inches stroke. The pipe connections are such that any of the cylinders may be worked singly or they may be worked in combination under any one of six possible arrangements, thus giving, for the purposes of the laboratory, what is equivalent to nine different engines. Connected with the engine are a Wheeler surface condenser, an independent Blake air-pump, tanks on scales in which may be weighed the condensed steam given up by the engine, tanks on scales in which may be weighed the cooling water which passes the condenser, permanent indicator rigs, and the usual gauges and counters.

A 100-horse-power Babcock & Wilcox boiler, having its safety valve Boilers. set at 160 pounds, supplies steam at high pressure for the triple-expansion engine and for general purposes. Connected with the boiler is a Hoppe's feed-water purifier. Accessory appliances are provided for use in making boiler tests. A 100-horse-power return-tubular boiler, used chiefly for heating, is also provided with separate appliances for boiler testing.

A Schenectady locomotive, weighing 85,000 pounds, is mounted upon 85,000-Pound supporting wheels in the laboratory in such a way as to allow its Locomotive. action to be studied and its performance tested while the engine is run at any desired speed and under any load, the conditions being similar to those of the track. The power of the engine is absorbed by Alden friction brakes of special design, and its tractive force is measured by a suitable dynamometer attached to the drawbar. The boiler may be fired with coal in the usual way. A powerful Sturtevant steam blower above the engine, but not in pipe connection with it, takes up and carries off whatever may be given out from the locomotive stack.

Miscellaneous Other apparatus for work in steam engineering is available as follows: A specially fitted slide-valve engine for practice in valve setting; a 35-horse-power compound Westinghouse engine; a 25-horse-power Atlas automatic cut-off engine; a Pyle high speed engine; a 50-horse-power Alden friction brake; several injectors; various forms of calorimeters for determining the quality of steam; apparatus for comparing thermometers and for testing gauges, and indicator springs; and an ample supply of indicators, planimeters, gauges, scales and thermometers. Altogether, the laboratory contains sixteen steam engines of different forms. There are also on the University grounds two plain slide-valve engines, and a straight-line engine, which may be considered as forming a part of the engineering laboratory equipment. A boiler plant of five large boilers affords additional means for boiler trials and fuel experiments.

12-Horse-Power Gas Engine. A 12-horse-power Otto gas engine, especially arranged with electric igniting apparatus, is supplied with natural gas from the same pipe which feeds the fire under the boilers. Means are thus afforded not only for carefully testing the performance of the gas engine, but also for making a direct comparison of its efficiency with that of the steam engine.

Testing Machines. There is a 100,000-pound Olsen testing machine, driven by power, for determining the strength of constructive materials under tensional, compressional and transverse stresses; micrometer clamps for measuring the elongation of specimens under test; a 2,000-pound cement tester, with cement molds, etc., for determining the relative value of cement mortars, and a good supply of small accessory apparatus.

Apparatus for Work in Hydraulics. For work in hydraulics there are two Heald & Sisco centrifugal pumps, a Root rotary pump, a Lefel turbine water-wheel, a Pelton water-motor, a Hersey water-meter, several sets of tanks on scales, a tank fitted with a 12-inch weir plate, a tank fitted with a 48-inch weir plate, and apparatus for measuring the flow of water in pipes and through orifices. A steam pump delivers the water supply from a well to a storage tank of 1,000 barrels capacity, and an experimental stand pipe affords means for maintaining any desired range of water pressure.

EQUIPMENT OF CIVIL ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT.

Field Instruments. For work in the field the department possesses four complete sets of instruments. Each set includes an engineer's transit, Y-level, chain, aligning rods, pins, tapes, etc. Each set is by a different maker, thus enabling the student to become acquainted with the peculiarities of design and construction of various standard types of engineering field instruments. In addition to these the department possesses a plane table, railroad compass, sextant, aneroid barometer, Locke hand level, Abney clinometer and pocket compass.

Geodetic Instruments. For work in geodesy there is a ten-inch alt-azimuth instrument, made to order for the department by Fauth & Co., of Washington, D. C. This instrument has a power of about sixty diameters, and reads on the horizontal circle by micrometer microscopes to single seconds, and on the vertical circle to five seconds. A heliotrope, designed and constructed by one of the students in the department, has been added to the equipment.

Hydrographic Field Work. For work in this line the department possesses a current meter complete, with electric register and sounding apparatus. Rating the meter and determining the flow of water past different cross sections of the Wabash River forms part of the field practice of the students in civil engineering.

Structural Models. The department possesses a number of models in plaster of Paris of various forms of arches, piers, buttresses and retaining walls. These were constructed from their own drawings by students in the department, and are being added to from time to time. There are also models of a combination Pratt truss six feet in length, and of a suspension bridge twenty-five feet in length. In addition to these there are being constructed a number of models of joints in roof trusses and bridges. These models are constructed full size from designs by the students.

Strength of Materials and Hydraulics. The description of the 100,000-pound Olsen testing machine and the description of the pumps, turbine water-wheels, motors, tanks and stand-pipe will be found under the head of "Mechanical Engineering Laboratory."

In addition to the above the department possesses a great many photographs and blue-prints of structures, which have been kindly furnished by various firms. These are invaluable to the student as practical object lessons in engineering, construction and design. The library is well selected and up to date, and in it may be found the leading engineering journals of the country.

MECHANICAL LABORATORIES.

These laboratories are in the Engineering Building, and are equipped as follows:

Wood-Working Room. The Wood-working room has in it fifty benches, furnished with separate sets of tools for 150 students; forty-four lathes for wood-turning, that are fitted with tools for 100 students; a circular saw, a band saw, a scroll saw, two grindstones, and the small tools needed in pattern-making.

Foundry. The Foundry contains thirty molding benches, furnished with the tools required in molding, a cupola furnace for iron, a brass furnace, a core oven, and is equipped with the sand, flasks, facings, etc., required in bench and floor molding.

Forge Room. The Forge Room contains thirty forges, equipped with smithing tools and fitted with blast and exhaust pipe system and fans.

Machine Room. The Machine Room is equipped as follows: One machine lathe, eighteen-inch swing, screw cutting; four of sixteen-inch swing, screw cutting; sixteen of fourteen-inch swing, screw cutting; two of fourteen-inch swing, non-screw cutting; one of ten-inch swing, screw cutting, and six speed lathes. There is a thirty-two-inch planer of eight-feet stroke, a twenty-two-inch planer of four-feet stroke, three vertical drilling machines, a universal milling machine, a shaper, two tool-grinders, a cutter grinder and an emery grinder or castings. These machines are provided with the small tools necessary to their use. In the room are also twenty-five benches fitted with vises, chisels, hammers, files, etc., used in hand work in metal.

Tool Rooms. Two Tool Rooms are provided with the special tools needed by the wood and iron workers, for which there is only an occasional use. They also contain the small supplies used in the various rooms, and are managed by means of a checking system.

Wash Room. The Wash and Cloak Rooms have separate lockers for three hundred students, and are fitted with sinks, basins and closets.

Motive Power. The Motive Power is furnished from the engine in the Engineering Laboratory.

Drawing Rooms. The Mechanical Drawing Rooms of the engineering departments are four in number, three being in the Electrical Building and one in the new Engineering Building. They are fitted with convenient tables for the accommodation of 450 students. There is also a dark room and a blue-print room equipped with apparatus used in the reproduction of drawings.

THE GREAT FIRE.

The new building was dedicated on the afternoon of January 19. Speeches were made by Governor Claude Matthews, Dr. H. H. Belfield, of Chicago, and by several members of the faculty.

In the evening a reception was held, which was attended by fifteen hundred people. The whole building was brilliantly lighted and scarcely less beautiful without than within.

On the evening of January 23 about 8:30 o'clock fire broke out in the boiler room near the north wall of the building. Help was summoned immediately, but a strong northwest wind forced the smoke and flames through the laboratories so rapidly that the students and others who responded to the call could do nothing but transfer the movable apparatus and furniture in other parts of the building to places of safety. In an almost incredibly short time the whole engineering laboratory, as well as the machine room and the forge room, was a sea of flames, and the east wall of the building had fallen. The fire originated in the portion of the building which had been intended as a center of the interior fire protection system and the apparatus and water for fighting fire were therefore inaccessible. The strong wind would, however, have made this exceedingly difficult, even had the most approved apparatus been at hand.

The firemen when they at last arrived brought an insufficient length of hose to reach the only available tank and, even when more had been obtained, the supply of water was intermittent and the onward rush of the flames could scarcely be retarded.

The roof of the magnificent three-story front was next attacked and it too was doomed. Heavilon Hall had been beautiful four days before; it was infinitely more beautiful now, but the crowds that watched this time were speechless with grief, and in a few hours only a pitiful mass of blackened ruins remained to mark the spot where Purdue's greatest pride once stood.

The only portion of the shops not completely destroyed was that west of the engineering laboratory and occupied by the wood shop and the foundry. Here the wind had been unfavorable for the spread of the fire and a bucket brigade of students and the firemen from the city had succeeded in warding it off.

Beside the enormous loss in building and equipment, much valuable furniture and many books belonging to various professors were destroyed, as well as records and experimental data which they had been years in collecting.

It was by far the greatest calamity which has ever befallen Purdue and one from which recovery seemed at the time almost impossible.

The following official announcement was sent to the friends of the University on the morning of January 30:

LA FAYETTE, IND., Jan. 29, 1894.

To the Friends of Purdue University:

It is with deepest regret that we announce the destruction by fire of the new Engineering Laboratory. It was burned on the night of Jan. 23—four days after its dedication. The fire originated in the boiler room and spread with great rapidity. Its progress could not be checked until the larger part of a fine building had been destroyed. Three laboratory rooms were burned: the machine room with its twenty lathes, its planers, shapers, drill presses, milling machines, and its large supply of small tools; the forge room with its thirty-two power forges; and the laboratory for advanced work, which contained Purdue's now famous locomotive "Schenectady," a triple expansion Corliss engine and much other apparatus designed for work in steam engineering, hydraulics, and strength of materials. Nothing in these rooms escaped the fire. Not only was all the apparatus lost but also a large amount of experimental data. The main portion of the building was also consumed. This contained three stories, 50 feet by 150 feet. It was occupied by drawing rooms, recitation and lecture rooms, instrument rooms, offices and a mechanical museum. Some of the furniture and apparatus in these rooms was carried out before the fire took possession, but, as already stated, this part of the building was entirely burned.

The only portion still standing comprises the wood room and foundry. These rooms were not damaged except by the temporary removal of the more portable portion of their equipment.

The incidental losses by the fire are considerable. Members of the faculty have lost books, papers and data; students, their instruments, and many manufacturers, in every part of the country, who, by gifts or liberal discounts, had cooperated in the equipment of the building have lost their representation there.

The excellent facilities for laboratory training which Purdue has been able to offer have made her engineering departments well known and have helped to draw to them a large number of students; and beyond the question of material loss caused by the fire is that of the inconvenience and deprivation which they suffer. Their presence emphasizes the necessity for a speedy restoration, and to the accomplishment of this every effort will now be directed. It is hoped and expected that the new building will be quite as extensive and its equipment quite as complete as were the building and equipment which have been lost, and, since experience has suggested the modification of many details, it is but reasonable to expect the second plant to be better than the first.

Such a laboratory as the one burned is the result of many influences; not among the least of these being the suggestions of professional friends and the material assistance of those who as manufacturers and builders are helping to advance the standard of engineering construction. We gratefully acknowledge the assistance thus rendered, and hope that our success in the past may warrant a continuation of the interest that has heretofore been accorded us.

Respectfully,

JAMES H. SMITH,

President Purdue University.

WM. F. M. GOSS,

THE STORY OF THE RESTORATION.

From a statement made to the Board of Trustees, March 16, 1894, it appears that the amount involved in the fire was approximately as follows:

Cost of building, heating apparatus, etc.....	$90,000
Apparatus, etc., in Engineering Laboratory .....	46,752
Mechanical Laboratory .....	11,135

Wood shop .....	$7,140
Apparatus in main building .....	6,805
Civil Engineering Department .....	4,000
Museum .....	3,000
Water privileges (tank, etc.) .....	1,000
Loss by removal, providing temporary quarters, etc ...	5,000
Total .....	$174,832

It was estimated that the salvage would amount to about $30,000. By careful management this amount was increased to about $50,000, leaving a total loss of approximately $125,000. If we deduct $50,000, the estimated cost of the front of the building, we have left as the loss by the destruction of the laboratories and their contents approximately $75,000.

The amount realized from the insurance was $46,915. To this must be added a donation from the "Ladies' Matinee Musicale" amounting to $600, a donation from the "Mandolin Club" of $10, and proceeds from the sale of machinery, $229.30, making the total reconstruction fund $47,754.30.

It was determined to make no attempt to rebuild the front of the building, but it was decided to reconstruct and re-equip the laboratories at all hazards as the only means of preventing students from scattering to other institutions and thus crippling Purdue for many years to come.

The work of removing the debris commenced the day after the fire occurred. Dealers and manufacturers were notified of our condition, and offers of gifts and discounts and loans came in upon us in large numbers. Temporary structures were built in six days, and the machinery was turning in them inside of a fortnight. Contracts were let for the building, and by the first of June all the laboratories were under roof, and by the beginning of the fall term they were fully equipped and ready for the students.

The restoration was accomplished with many improvements and a considerable number of additions. How this was done is a story too long to be told. As above stated, we had $47,754.30. We temporarily borrowed from other funds, members of the faculty agreeing to wait for their salaries, if necessary, until the Legislature could meet the emergency with suitable appropriations. Students and members of the faculty set to work with a will. Here the practical value of the education given at Purdue was splendidly demonstrated. Many of the smaller machines and much of the apparatus were restored in our own laboratories and at a saving of thousands of dollars, students and faculty vying with each other in putting in extra work to secure this result. Many of the manufacturers volunteered to reconstruct apparatus and machinery free of charge, others made outright donations, others made extraordinary discounts, and still others offered to loan us machinery and apparatus until we could secure money for their payment. It is estimated that about $30,000 was procured in this way.

About the first of April it became apparent that our efforts at reconstructing the working laboratories would be successful. We therefore issued the following circular:

PURDUE UNIVERSITY,
LAFAYETTE, IND., April 23, 1894.

Introduction. THE REGISTER for the present year contains a description of the University buildings and their equipment as they existed prior to the burning of the Engineering Laboratory, on the night of January 23. The destruction of the greater part of this magnificent structure and the loss of its expensive equipment came as a heavy blow upon all who were immediately interested in Purdue's welfare, and it was but natural that some should have viewed the possible effect of this loss with apprehension. But the three months which have passed since the fire has given time for shaping financial matters, for clearing away debris, for letting contracts, and for beginning the actual work of reconstruction; so that now, definite assurances concerning the future may be given. From the detailed statement which follows, it will appear that upon the opening of the next school year, the facilities for laboratory work will be better and more extensive than ever before.

Announcements are hereby made as follows:

1. The portion of the building which contained the FOUNDRY and the WOOD-WORKING SHOP, and which was damaged in the fire, has been repaired, and all machines and tools originally contained therein have been replaced and are now in use by students. A new and larger cupola furnace has been added to the equipment of the foundry.
2. The portion of the building containing the MACHINE ROOM, RECONSTRUCTED. FORGE ROOM and STEAM ENGINEERING LABORATORY, which was entirely destroyed, is now in process of reconstruction, and will be completed by June 15.
3. The MACHINE SHOP equipment lost in the fire has already been fully replaced by new and improved machine tools, which are now in use by students in temporary quarters.

The FORGE ROOM appliances are all in the process of reconstruction, and the whole outfit will be put in place as soon as the building is ready to receive it.

4. The ENGINEERING LABORATORY contained a large variety of machines, some of which were very heavy. These heavier machines were not destroyed, but all were more or less damaged. The triple-expansion engine, the Westinghouse engine, the boilers, and some of the heavier hydraulic apparatus, are being reconstructed upon the ground. The locomotive Schenectady is to go through the shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Indianapolis. The smaller steam engines, the gas engines, the pumps, the testing machines, and other light apparatus have been shipped to their respective makers, who have been directed to make them as good as new, or to supply new ones in their places. Small instruments of observation have been purchased, or contracts have been made for them. It can safely be said that these arrangements will result in an equipment for the Engineering Laboratory which in all respects will be equal, and in some particulars superior to that which it contained before the fire.

Summary of Restoration. 5. In view of the work that has already been accomplished and of the contracts that have been entered into as set forth in the preceding paragraphs, the Trustees are able to announce that, while it is probable that the front of the destroyed building will not be rebuilt at present, the working laboratories will be completed, and that every machine, tool, and piece of apparatus formerly in the laboratories and necessary to carry on the instruction and practice provided for in the catalogue, will be in place and ready for use before September 14, 1894.

Improvements. 6. The Trustees take pleasure also in announcing, that besides arranging for the complete restoration of that which was lost, as already set forth, they have been able to provide for improvements and additions which will be available before the opening of the next school year, as follows:

Locomotive Plant. (a). The LOCOMOTIVE PLANT will be removed from the general laboratory to a new building especially designed to receive it. The new plant will be larger and much more complete than the original. Its parts will be made adjustable to receive any locomotive whatsoever, and in order that the whole may be available for testing the performance of locomotives from any part of the country, the building will be connected by a track with the Lake Erie & Western Railroad. The three years' experience with the original apparatus has been made the basis of a careful revision of the details of the locomotive plant. A new traction dynamometer, made up of the weighing portion of an Emery testing machine of 30,000 lbs. capacity, has been specially designed, and is now under process of construction, by Messrs. Wm. Sellers & Co. The possession of this fine piece of apparatus will insure great accuracy in the determination of drawbar stresses, which is one of the important elements in the performance of a locomotive. Much other new and delicate apparatus will be connected with the plant.

Steam Engineering. (b). The STEAM ENGINEERING EQUIPMENT of the general laboratory will be increased by the addition of the two engines of a Vauclain Compound Locomotive, arranged to be mounted as a stationary engine upon a foundation, and to be run with steam, under the load of a friction brake. The exhaust will be piped to a surface condenser which will serve to give the steam consumption of the engines, and provision will be made for the attachment of all other apparatus usually employed in testing steam engines. This important piece of apparatus is supplied through the generosity of the Baldwin Locomotive Works. There will also be added, for steam engineering, several typical experimental engines of from 10 to 35-horse-power, each connected with a condenser for determining steam consumption. The list will include a Straight Line Engine, a Buckeye Engine and a De Laval Steam Turbine ; also a Kimble Combined Engine and Boiler.

Riehle Testing Machine. (c). For strength of materials there has been purchased the magnificent, 300,000-pound, upright RIEHLE TESTING MACHINE exhibited at the World's Fair, and at that time the largest upright machine in the world. This machine will accommodate specimens up to ten feet in length, either for tension or compression.

Gas Room. (d). In the process of reconstruction an addition will be made to the building which will be known as the GAS ROOM. This will contain two experimental gas engines, a railway car lighting equipment of the Frost Dry Carburetor system, and a railway car lighting equipment of the Pintsch System. All the experimental work upon gas will be conducted in this room.

Acknowledgments. 7. In their efforts to re-establish the laboratory, the Trustees gratefully acknowledge the hearty co-operation extended to them by manufacturers of apparatus and machinery. All have been more than liberal in their discounts, and many have made repairs, or have exchanged old for new without cost to the University. It may be added that a considerable amount of the apparatus mentioned above has been loaned to the University for its use until such time as the University shall be able to pay for it.

INSURANCE.

The total amount of insurance policies on the buildings and machinery involved in the fire was $47,500, but some of this insurance was on specific articles that had deteriorated in value, and we could realize only their value at the time of the fire. In another instance there was a dispute with one of the companies as to whether one two-thousand dollar policy should not be regarded as a substitute for another two-thousand-dollar policy previously issued by the same company. We settled with this company for $3,500, thus receiving $1,500 more than they claimed was our due and $500 less than the claim that we filed. The total loss in the adjustment was $585, leaving the amount received, as stated above, $46,915.

It has not been the policy of the State, I believe, to insure its public buildings, and the Purdue authorities have been criticised for expending money on insurance premiums. The Board of Trustees, however, felt that, inasmuch as Purdue was more than a mile from the city of LaFayette and entirely without fire protection, it was their duty to insure the State's property. The results stated above are ample justification for the course which the Board has taken.

In order to make the reconstructed laboratory safer, I may state that the walls between the various laboratories have been built as fire-walls, having the openings furnished with fire-doors. The boiler house has been roofed with iron, and all the gas apparatus has been placed in a minor structure considerably removed from the main laboratories. In addition to this fire-plugs connecting with the water tank have been distributed throughout the laboratories, so that a moderate stream of water can be thrown into any part of the building in less than three minutes.

I have taken some steps to put in a water system, consisting of a 2,500 barrel cistern, a fire-pump, and 1,000 feet of pipe, with four hydrants, at an expenditure of about $2,500. A part of this work has already been done, but the recent reorganization of the West LaFayette Water Works Company, with whom we had an agreement more than a year ago for a supply of water, has rendered it quite probable that they would give us reasonable fire protection before the first of January. I have, therefore, suspended work on our private system until the results of the efforts of the West LaFayette Company are more apparent.

OUR NEEDS.

---

The Board had in its possession certain funds which had been set aside for the payment of salaries of instructors and for incidental expenses, although they could at any time have been legally used for apparatus and machinery. During the process of erecting the original building and of reconstructing it this fund was drawn upon to such an extent that it will be very difficult to pay the salaries of our instructors after the 1st of March, 1895, unless the Legislature shall make an appropriation, with which to restore the funds so absorbed.

The amount of this quasi-indebtedness is as follows:

On account of original building constructed.....	$8,103 68
On account of reconstructed building.....	9,939 44
On account of addition to the Electrical Laboratory	2,950 04
On account of fire protection .....	1,525 00
On account of loans .....	2,950 00
Total.....	$25,468 16

This leaves the institution in need as follows :

1. An appropriation of $25,500 with which to restore the tuition and general funds to their normal condition.
2. Some means by which the front of the building can be reconstructed. It is estimated that this will cost about $50,000.
3. If $15,000 could be appropriated for improvements on the farm it would greatly increase our facilities for doing good work in our agricultural department.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF GIFTS AND CON- CESSIONS.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of Indiana :

In submitting to your honorable body the report for the two years ending October 31, 1894, the Trustees of the Indiana State Normal School take pleasure in calling your attention to the increased number of young men and women of the State who have sought the aid of this institution in qualifying themselves to be teachers in the public schools of Indiana. The avowed object of the Legislature, as expressed in the act of December 20, 1865, in establishing this school, was "to prepare teachers for teaching in the common schools of Indiana." The institution is at this time accomplishing this purpose more effectually than ever before, not only in the largely increased attendance, but in the thoroughness of the training given those preparing to teach.

In making his apportionment of the school revenues of the State, the Superintendent of Public Instruction is required by law to set apart semi-annually $15,000 for tuition in the State Normal School. When this act was passed the number of instructors in the school was fifteen and the average attendance was 400. During the past year the total enrollment of different students was 1,459 and the number of instructors twenty-four. This increase of teaching force exhausts our tuition fund and causes an overdraft, or the use of a portion of our incidental and library funds before the next apportionment is made. Hereafter further additions to our faculty will be imperatively demanded, and the General Assembly is urgently requested to give us an additional $5,000 at each semi-annual apportionment.

In our last biennial report to the General Assembly we asked an appropriation of $60,500 for the construction of an additional building. This amount was the result of careful estimates made by the architect of the actual cost. The history of the matter in that session shows that the section of the general appropriation bill containing that clause was concurred in by both branches of the Legislature, but in securing concurrence on other features of the bill the conference committee brought in a report reducing our appropriation to $40,000, which was adopted in the last few minutes of the session.

Without modifying our plans, contracts were made for the erection and enclosing of the new building and completion as far as possible. With the exception of three class rooms, the building remains practically useless. While we could have completed the building with the sum originally asked for in one contract, it will be impossible to finish the work within the original estimates. The original estimate did not include the finishing of the fourth floor, or the furnishing of the building. It is deemed advisable now to complete and furnish the entire building. The present large attendance makes this imperative. To give the members of the Legislature a clearer idea of the necessity of the early completion of this building, reference is made to the argument on the subject in the report of President Parsons.

Careful estimates of the cost are as follows:

Completion of new building, as per estimate of 1892.	$20,500 00
Finishing and furnishing fourth floor (not included in estimate of 1892) .....	4,000 00
Electric lighting (not included in estimate of 1892)...	2,400 00
Furnishing library with cases, tables, chairs, floor covering, desks, etc. (not included in estimate of 1892) .....	5,500 00
Additional cost of letting work in two contracts.....	2,000 00
Architect's commission, 5 per cent .....	1,720 00
Additional heating required .....	1,000 00
For replacing incidental fund used on building .....	362 86
Contingencies .....	500 00
Total.....	<hr/> $37,982 86

We respectfully ask an appropriation of this amount.

Attention is called to the reports of the Secretary and Treasurer for the past two years.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

MURRAY BRIGGS,

President.

---

HON. MURRAY BRIGGS, President

Board of Trustees Indiana State Normal School:

I herewith submit a scholastic report of the State Normal School for the two years ending October 31, 1894:

THE FACULTY.

At present the faculty consists of a President, who is also head of the department of History and Philosophy of Education; a Vice-President, who is the head of the department of Mental Science and Methods; twelve additional heads of departments, seven assistant teachers and three training school teachers—twenty-four instructors in all. Owing to the larger attendance in the spring term of each year, it is necessary to employ a number of additional teachers for this term. In the spring term of 1894, when there were twelve hundred students present, ten assistant teachers were employed. The school has grown so rapidly in recent years that the present teaching force is not sufficient to instruct properly the large body of students now in attendance. It should be increased at the earliest practicable moment by the addition of at least six more teachers. Many of the classes are entirely too large for thorough, efficient instruction. If the classes now in the school were so divided as to have no more pupils in each class than can be well taught, it would require at least six more teachers to meet and instruct the classes left over. This would be the fact, notwithstanding the professors and assistant teachers in the Normal School all carry more classes from day to day than in any other State Normal School or college of which I have any knowledge. The various heads of departments are called on to teach so many classes themselves that they have little time left in which to superintend the work done by their assistant teachers.

I have refrained from pressing these facts upon the attention of the Board, because I have known that you are already using for the payment of teachers, not only the $30,000 annually received for this purpose, but are adding to this amount from $3,000 to $4,000 annually out of the annual appropriation of $10,000 made for incidental purposes.

In view of these facts, I am clear in the conviction that, at the coming meeting of the General Assembly, application should be made for an increase of not less than $10,000 in the annual allowance for tuition purposes. I know of no institution attempting to do thorough, honest, systematic work with so large a number of students on a sum of money no larger than that received annually by the State Normal School. When it is remembered that it costs the State less than $65 per year to maintain a student in this institution and that all persons entering are required to pledge themselves to teach in the common schools of Indiana two years for every year spent as students in the school, it seems wholly within the bounds of reason to ask that the appropriations for the purpose shall be sufficient to afford the highest quality of instruction.

Since the report of two years ago there have been a number of changes in the faculty. As you are familiar with these, I need not detail them here. I wish only to say that, in my opinion, there has never been a time in the history of the school (and I have known every teacher the school has had since the day of its opening, twenty-five years ago) when the faculty was made up of so many teachers of acknowledged scholarship, ability and teaching power as at present.

THE STUDENTS.

As already stated, the attendance has grown very rapidly in the last few years. By reference to the statistical table published on page 14, it will be seen that the growth during the past two years, and more particularly during the year just ended, has been unprecedented. For the year ending October 31, 1893, there was enrolled 1,084 different students, and the average term enrollment was 561 students. For the year ending October 31, 1894, the total enrollment of different students was 1,459, and the average term enrollment was 741. These figures show a growth in the average attendance of 33 per cent. and in the total number of different students of 35 per cent. over the previous year.

But it is not so much the increase in numbers as the better attainments of those entering that mark the steady advance of the institution. It is noticeable that more persons of mature years, of good scholarship and of experience in teaching are attending the school than formerly. Within the past two years there have been in the school 23 graduates and undergraduates of colleges, 169 graduates of commissioned high schools, and 683 that hold licenses to teach. Of the two hundred and seventy-eight students entering the school for the first time this fall eight were college graduates and under-graduates, forty-four were high-school graduates, and eighty-six held county licenses of varying grades.

The law requiring that no person shall be admitted to the school who does not enter in good faith to prepare to teach in the public schools of the State, is enforced. Only such persons are admitted as declare in writing this to be their intention.

Throughout the history of the school the number of students in the spring term has been much larger than in the fall and winter terms. This has been due to the fact that the country schools generally close for the year at about the same time as the winter term of the Normal School. A large number of persons who teach in the fall and winter avail themselves of the opportunity to take instruction in the Normal School in the spring term. While the attendance has been comparatively small in the first two terms of the year, it has sometimes taxed the capacity of the building in the spring term. Last spring, for example, the enrollment reached 1,200 different students. However, students are beginning to realize the importance of doing a consecutive year's work, and a larger number are entering in the fall than heretofore with the intention of continuing throughout the year. Not only will this be greatly to the advantage of the students themselves, for the reasons given, but it will reduce the spring attendance, thus distributing the numbers better throughout the three terms of the year. The program of classes for the year will hereafter be so made as to encourage students to enter in the fall and remain at least one year. By this means the school can probably meet the growing demands made on it for several years to come.

THE NEW BUILDING.

Realizing several years ago that the one large building occupied by the school would soon be insufficient to accommodate the large number of students asking admission, the Trustees purchased a piece of ground about 100 feet square adjoining the property already owned, with the view of erecting at some time an additional building thereon. The need of additional room became apparent very soon. It was seen that the library, although quite a large room, is entirely insufficient. The library, consisting of about 11,000 volumes, has been built up almost entirely by the library fees paid by students. In the library fund at this time there is nearly $5,000, paid in by students, but which can not be expended for books because the library room is already over-full.

It was deemed important, too, to have the chemical and physical laboratories in a separate building, that the main building might be free from the disagreeable odors arising from these, and that greater safety might exist.

Under these circumstances the last General Assembly was applied to for an appropriation of $60,500 for the construction of a new building. The amount asked for was based on careful estimates made by the architect. The General Assembly, in its wisdom, saw its way clear to appropriate only $40,000 of this sum. With the money thus appropriated a contract was let for pushing the construction as far as possible. It required the full amount appropriated to enclose the building and complete three class rooms for use in the spring term. It is of the highest importance that this building should be completed as early as possible. With the ample library space planned in the new building and the additional laboratories and class rooms it would afford, the growing needs of the institution could be met for at least five years to come.

THE LIBRARY.

The library has become the general laboratory, or workshop of the whole school. The text-books serve their legitimate function as guides in the various subjects studied and students are sent to the library with references, more or less specific according to their advancement, to the best authorities and sources of information. The more elaborate and difficult treatises are consulted by the mature and mentally strong students; the shorter and more easily comprehended ones, by those students who are not so mentally gifted, or have not had the opportunities of their fellows. There is here therefore a play for individual requirements, of which an exclusive use of a single author did not admit. Another result, gratifying indeed, is the translation of the spiritless recitation of the old regime into a lively presentation of the statements, with sometimes different views, of several authorities. Nor must we forget the broader views engendered and the enthusiasm aroused for a culture gained only by a lifetime of self-endeavor and by contact with the fruits of the best minds.

During the academic year closing with June 29, 1894, there were issued from this library either as reference books or books for collateral and general reading 25,097 volumes, as shown by an actual count of the canceled slips. The use of the books inside the reading rooms is estimated at 75,237, making a total use of 100,316, or an average of ten times for every volume of the library. The year upon which we are now entering shows a further remarkable increase in the use of our library books. The use has been more than doubled within four years.

In the meantime we have completely outgrown our present quarters. The hundreds of readers who daily flock to the library from all departments of the school can no longer be fitly accommodated; moreover, all available space has been utilized in the shelving of books. If the health and reasonable comfort of our students are to be cared for, if the library is to keep pace with the best thought of the day, there should be no delay in fitting up the rooms in the new building.

There is also urgent need of assistance in the library; indeed the time has long past when one person could possibly do the work well. Two assistants besides the librarian could to-day be actively and continually employed in work that ought to be done.

STATISTICS.

Total number of different students since the organization of the school, 10,678.

Of the 670 graduates and the 10,008 under-graduates of the institution, it is impossible to determine what proportion are now teaching, but a large majority, it is known, are actively engaged in the school work of the State. It is doubtful if there is a township in the State which has not at some time had one or more teachers from this institution, and probably the public schools of no county of the State are at this time without several representatives of the Normal School. Capable graduates and under-graduates experience no difficulty in securing positions at remunerative salaries. The supply of such persons, qualified for systematic, thorough school work, has for several years proved quite unequal to the demand.

EXPLANATION OF COURSES OF STUDY.

The State Normal School maintains four courses of study, as follows: (1) A four years' course; (2) an abridgment of this course for graduates of commissioned high schools; (3) an abridgment of the same course for persons holding one or more three years' licenses; and (4) a course for college graduates.

The course of four years embraces all the subjects that are found in any and all the courses provided. It is designed to meet the needs of those persons that enter the school having the minimum scholarship. The object of this course is to give as thorough and complete a preparation for common school teaching as can be conferred in the period named. It will be noticed that the course includes much more work than can be done in four years; but the student of average ability, and who possesses a fair knowledge of the common school branches on entering, can make credits enough in four years to graduate. Fifty credits are necessary to graduation. In this number penmanship and music are included, and may be taken as fifth studies. Four subjects carried successfully throughout the course, with music and penmanship each one term as fifth studies, gives the required credits for graduation. The common school branches and the entire line of professional work are required—about two years. The remaining subjects necessary to graduation may be elected by the student, with the advice of the faculty.

The course of three years for graduates of commissioned high schools is the same as the four years' course, except that such graduates are given a credit of one year—thirteen credits—and are thus enabled to graduate in three years. Such graduates are required to take the common school branches, and the entire professional work of the course. The remaining subjects may be elected by the student, with the advice of the faculty. Thirty-seven credits are necessary to graduation in this course.

A second three years' course is provided for those persons who possess a thorough knowledge of the common school branches. The following action of the Board of Trustees will show what class of teachers are entitled to take this course:

"Resolved, That hereafter all students shall be excused from pursuing in the Normal School the eight legal or common school branches who hold one or more three years' county licenses to teach in Indiana: Provided, That if, in attempting the professional subjects of the course and the advanced academic subjects, it should be discovered that any person of the class described is deficient in the common school branches, such person shall not be graduated until this deficiency has been made good by thorough study of the given subject or subjects in the Normal School: And provided further, That no county license shall be accepted as evidence of adequate scholarship in the common school branches which shall not have been issued within the five years immediately preceding the date of entering the Normal School."

The course of one year for college graduates has been organized to meet the needs of those graduates of colleges and universities who wish to enter the field of teaching and superintending schools, and who feel the need of professional training for this work. It will be noticed that the instruction is of a strictly professional character. In planning this course it is assumed that the student has a liberal and accurate knowledge of the subjects required to be taught in the public graded and high schools. It is further assumed that this academic knowledge and training, important and necessary as it is, does not alone qualify one for the delicate and responsible work of teaching and managing schools. It is sought, therefore, to give the student that professional knowledge and skill that belong peculiarly to the teaching profession. Only such persons are eligible to this course as have graduated from some college or university, maintaining a thorough college course of not less than four years.

The courses of study are planned for students of average ability and attainments. Persons of greater ability and attainments can complete the course in less than four years; those of less ability and scholarship will need more than four years to graduate.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

The act of the General Assembly which created the Indiana State Normal School was approved December 20, 1865. This act defined the object of the school, provided for the appointment of a board of trustees, the location of the buildings, the organization of a training school and the adoption of courses of study, and created the Normal School fund for the maintenance of the institution. The act further required the trustees to locate the school at the town or city of the State that should obligate itself to give the largest amount in cash or buildings and grounds to secure the school. The city of Terre Haute was the only place to offer an inducement to secure the institution. A tract of ground three hundred feet square near the center of the city and $50,000 in cash were offered. This offer was accepted, and the construction of the building was begun. Aided by subsequent legislative appropriations the trustees were able to complete the building partially, and the school was opened January 6, 1870. The professional training of teachers was an experiment in Indiana, and the institution began its work without the confidence and united support of the people of the State. Twenty-three students were present on the opening day and this number increased to forty by the end of the term. The attendance has grown steadily since the opening of the school, and during the year ending June 30, 1894, 1,330 students were enrolled. In 1887 the school had become so large that it was necessary for the city high school of Terre Haute, which had occupied a portion of the building since its completion, to find new quarters, thus leaving the entire building of three stories to be occupied by the Normal School alone.

On the forenoon of April 9, 1888, the building and its contents were almost totally destroyed by fire. Only the foundations were left unimpaired; the library, furniture, apparatus and everything in the building—the accumulation of eighteen years—were consumed. Terre Haute provided temporary quarters for the school, and promptly gave $50,000 in cash with which to begin the work of rebuilding. The next General Assembly appropriated $100,000 for the completion of the building and the purchase of a new library, etc. As a result, the school has at present a commodious and beautiful building and an equipment in every department much superior to that possessed before the fire.

The last Legislature appropriated $40,000 for the construction of a new building to be used for gymnasia, library and laboratories. This new addition, when completed, will add very materially to the facilities of the institution for the prosecution of its work.

The attendance during the spring term of the current year was very large, there being eleven hundred and eighty-three different young men and women in actual attendance.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

First. Sixteen years of age, if females, and eighteen, if males.

Second. Good health.

Third. Satisfactory evidence of undoubted moral character.

Fourth. A pledge that the applicant will, if practicable, teach in the common schools of Indiana, a period equal to twice that spent as a student in the Normal School.

Fifth. A fair knowledge of the following subjects: Spelling, Writing, Reading, English Grammar, Geography, United States History, Physiology and Arithmetic.

NOTE.—Persons holding a one year's, two years' or three years' license will be admitted without examination.

Sixth. Persons entering for the first time are required to present a statement from some reputable and well known citizen of the State to the effect that the applicant is a person of good moral character.

CERTIFICATES AND DIPLOMAS.

Section 4557 of the school law of Indiana reads as follows: "The board of trustees is authorized to grant, from time to time, certificates of proficiency to such teachers as shall have completed any of the prescribed courses of study, and whose moral character and disciplinary relations to the school shall be satisfactory. At the expiration of two years after graduation, satisfactory evidence of professional ability to instruct and manage a school having been received, they shall be entitled to diplomas appropriate to such professional degrees as the trustees shall confer upon them, which diploma shall be considered sufficient evidence of qualification to teach in any of the schools of the State."

Graduates who make application for diplomas under the provisions of the law are required to produce certificates of their success in instruction and school management and as to the number of months taught, from both county superintendents and township trustees, if they have taught in the country, or from superintendents of graded schools of towns or cities and the trustees of such schools if they have taught in towns or cities. Such certificates should be sent to the president of the school at least one month before the close of the academic year.

By a rule of the board of trustees, satisfactory evidence of twelve months' successful experience in teaching, after completing the course of study, entitles the graduate to the diploma of the institution.

As a means of promoting still greater thoroughness on the part of those nearing graduation from the school, the board of trustees, by a recent action, requires "that all candidates for graduation from the Normal School shall be required to hold a county license to teach for a period of not less than two years; said license having been issued within the five years next preceding the date of commencement for the given year. Or that such person shall receive a grade in an examination conducted by the faculty on the questions used in the county examination that would entitle them to a license for not less than two years, if the examination were taken under a county superintendent."

DISCIPLINE OF THE SCHOOL

The end of all school government and discipline, intelligently conceived and administered, is the rational self-control and self direction of the pupil. This is to be the outcome in the pupil. The effort is made to derive all rules of government from the inherent nature and purposes of the organization itself. This is the true basis of such rules; from this alone they derive their authority, and not from the teacher's will and utterance. A system of school regulations which aims only at arbitrary restraint, without leading the pupil to order his conduct by clearly conceived principles of right doing, lacks the most essential educative qualities. The formation of correct habits of thought and action, the development of worthy character, these are the true aims of school discipline. The discipline of the Normal School is administered in this general thought and spirit. Students are led to see the reasonableness of the requirements made of them, so that their obedience may be intelligent and educative. In respect to discipline, as in all other particulars, the Normal School seeks to make itself in fact what it must be by definition—a model school.

EXPENSES.

Board, including fuel and light, can be had in good families at $3.50 to $5 per week, according to quality of accommodations. There are good facilities for self-boarding, and for club-boarding in the city at a cost of $2.50 to $3.50 per week. Nearly all the students board in clubs, thus reducing their entire expenses to $3 per week for good accommodations. The expenses of many do not exceed $2.50 per week. The only charge made by the school is a library fee of $1 per term.

The necessary expenses for a year in the Normal School will not vary greatly from the following estimate :

Room rent, 40 weeks, at $1 .....	$40 00
Board, 40 weeks, at $2 .....	80 00
Fuel and lights.....	7 50
Washing and incidentals .....	25 00

SPECIAL CLASSES IN SPRING TERM.

Many teachers of experience and good scholarship desire to spend one term in reviewing certain subjects which they are required to teach, or in pursuing certain professional studies, and yet are precluded from taking an extended course of study in any institution. Some of these are the leading teachers in their respective counties. They are prevented from pursuing a systematic course of study by being under the necessity of teaching during the fall and winter. To such persons of mature years, experience in teaching, who hold a high grade of license, and who enter the Normal School for the spring term only, the privilege of taking a special course will be accorded. For the benefit of these, special classes will be organized, if necessary, in Mental Science, Methods, Observation in Training Schools, Science of Education, U. S. History, Algebra and Physiology.

ADVANCED STANDING BY EXAMINATION.

The Normal School is authorized to give a formal credit on its course to three classes of students only, namely: (1) College graduates; (2) graduates of commissioned high schools; and (3) those persons holding one or more three years' licenses. These are all admitted without examination.

Persons not included in the above named classes, and wishing to be excused from the study of any subjects in the course, are required to pass through satisfactory examinations in such subjects. Effort is made to give every person full credit for all knowledge of subjects possessed on entering, and to assist him to advance as rapidly and to graduate as soon as is consistent with a thorough teacher's knowledge of the subjects studied.

Examinations conducted for passing persons out of given subjects without detailed study of these in the school are made thorough, extended and professional in character. The object is not simply to test the applicant's knowledge of the subject in its academic aspects, but to ascertain what he knows of it from a teacher's point of view. The psychology of the subject, its method and its educational value are considered in these examinations.

YOUNG MEN'S AND YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

These organizations are engaged in similar lines of work, uniting only in that which can be done most effectually by such union.

The purpose of the associations is distinctively religious—to aid in the development of the Christian character of their members, to advance the moral and spiritual element of the school, and to lead the students into aggressive Christian work. Included in the membership are the leading members of the Normal and the faculty. This effort of the Christian students to elevate the moral, social and spiritual life of the students, has the hearty support and co-operation of the faculty and board of trustees.

Located on the fourth floor of the building is the association room, beautifully furnished and devoted exclusively to the work of these organizations. Each association holds a mid-week prayer meeting, and on Saturday a joint meeting is devoted to the discussion of some timely topic, religious or moral.

The field of work is shown somewhat by the fact that the following committees carry on the organized work: Bible study, religious meetings, social, finance, membership, literature, intercollegiate, missionary, visiting, music and room.

At the beginning of the fall and spring terms, a "Student's Campaign" is conducted by the members of the associations, the object of which is to welcome new students and to assist voluntarily in securing rooms, board and other needed information.

These organizations are recommended to all students of the Normal.

REPORT OF BOARD OF VISITORS.

---

The board of official visitors to the school for the academic year 1892-93 consisted of the following: George M. Grant, President Queen's College, Kingston, Ontario; R. I. Hamilton, superintendent schools, Huntington, Ind., and W. B. Black, superintendent schools, Jackson County, Indiana. Following is the board's report:

To the Board of Trustees of the Indiana State Normal School:

GENTLEMEN—Having accepted the appointment to visit the State Normal School at Terre Haute, witness the exercises, and otherwise inspect its condition, we discharged the duty last month, giving several days to it and finding great enjoyment in the work. The president and the members of the staff rendered every assistance to enable us to make the inspection complete.

Normal Schools are of two kinds, according to the public system of education in different countries, or the stage of development, which the system has attained. In the Province of Ontario no person can be engaged as a public school teacher unless he has a Provincial Normal School certificate, but the training in the Normal School is confined to professional or pedagogical subjects, such as the history of education, the science of education, school organization and management, methods of teaching and practical teaching. There is also a final examination on "Temperance and Hygiene, Agriculture, Reading, Writing, Drawing, Music, Drill and Calisthenics." The pupils are expected to acquire the general scholarship and culture demanded by the Department of Education, in the Model Schools, High Schools, Collegiate Institutes, colleges and universities of the Province. One year's attendance at the Normal School is all that is required. In Scotland, on the contrary, Normal Schools undertake to give general scholarship, as well as teach professional methods, though all subjects are taught from a pedagogical point of view; that is, the student acquires knowledge, not for its own sake, but with an object in view, and that object is to teach it to others, and especially to immature minds. The Indiana State Normal School is of the Scottish and not of the Canadian type. Inasmuch as it is situated in a city where there is no university whose classes the student might attend, the Scottish is certainly the better type for Indiana to follow; and as the school in Terre Haute has organized a one year's course for those university graduates who wish to enter the teaching profession and who feel the need of professional training, there is no unnecessary overlapping of State work, while the needs of that large class who can not take a regular college course are met. It is evident that a Normal School of this kind must be a much more extensive and expensive institution than one on the Ontario plan. The usual course must be for four years, instead of one year. A staff of at least twenty instead of three or four is needed, and the personnel of the staff ought to be of the same class as that from which college professors are taken. A library as encyclopedic in range as a university library is needed. There must also be good laboratories, museum, apparatus, gymnasium and other equipments. The aim is to make the pupils scholars as well as teachers; to give them some appreciation of the elements of art, particularly of music and drawing, and to enable them to teach good manners and sound morals, as well as intellectual disciplines; and that they may do all this successfully, they must be in themselves examples and inspirations to those who are to be committed to their charge. In an institution of this kind also the position of the president is one of peculiar difficulty and responsibility, and if he has a special department to teach, as well as the oversight of the whole, a combination of qualities is required that is seldom found in a single person. Yet the person must be found, for weakness here, either in intellectual or moral power, or in tact and administrative capacity, would soon be followed by confusion and paralysis everywhere.

We inspected the school with our eyes open to its scope and purpose, and we now beg leave to report that we found it, speaking generally, in a first-class condition, and with the prospect of soon being able to do its work better, when the addition to the building, which has been partially provided for, has been completed and equipped, in accordance with the plans of the Board of Trustees.

The first thing that a visitor notes is the spirit of the students. They have come to work, and not to idle away a part of their lives, and there is consequently a general earnestness that makes discipline easy. Not the slightest sign of friction can be detected either in the class-rooms or in the working of the organization. The importance of this can not be overestimated, for young men and women learn quite as much from their fellow students as from their professors. Besides, it makes them study from the first day of the term, instead of putting off from week to week, and then attempting to do three months' work in one. This accounts, too, in part, no doubt, for the good state of health in which they seem to be. Regular study hurts neither man nor woman. Quite the contrary. But periods of idleness alternating with periods of labor at high pressure, and for too many hours a day, result in shattering nerves or the break-down of the whole system.

The next thing noted was the method of instruction universally followed. Instead of lecturing, the Socratic or semi-Socratic method is adopted. This method requires thoroughness as regards knowledge of his subject on the part of the teacher, as well as intellectual readiness, and a sympathy that enables him to enter into the mental condition and see the point of view of the pupil; and it demands, on the part of the pupil, a desire to learn sufficiently absorbing to destroy the self-consciousness that makes us all afraid to answer questions lest we display our ignorance and be laughed at for our mistakes. If these conditions are not present, the class hour may be wasted and the pupils learn little except that their instructor can be confused or drawn off from his subject, or that some of their fellows are in a fog. It is the true method, notwithstanding, and it is followed in the Normal School intelligently and with a large measure of success.

It is unnecessary to go into the work of the different departments of the school in detail, but we can not avoid commending the spirit with which the instructors in science conduct their work in their present unsuitable quarters and with inadequate equipment. They will appreciate all the more the conditions in which they expect soon to find themselves in the new building. The library is a model as regards classification of books and arrangement; still more because of the extent to which it is used as a workshop by the students. If it be true, as Carlyle says, "That the best modern university is the best collection of books," then nothing is more needed in every institution of learning than a complete collection of the best authors, facilities for utilizing it, and guidance. The collection of books, considering that it has been made in four years, is very good. It is better, too, to add 1,500 volumes yearly than to purchase 15,000 at once. The field of the knowable is extending daily, and new additions of old works are continually called for to bring them up to date. But what is more needed than a large collection is the throwing of it open to all likely to profit by it, with such guidance that the student, instead of being lost, as in a vast forest, learns easily how to find his way, and to lay his hand on the book that he most needs. We also approve of the change that has been made in assigning two terms in instruction in music and in drawing instead of one. The children of the State should be taught to sing together, and they can be taught only in the public schools. To secure this, the teachers themselves must first be taught. We heartily congratulate the State of Indiana on the efficiency of its public Normal School.

• Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE M. GRANT,
R. I. HAMILTON,
W. B. BLACK.

REPORT OF BOARD OF VISITORS.

The Board of Official Visitors to the school for the academic year 1893-94 consisted of the following: Prof. Justin N. Study, Superintendent of Schools, Richmond, Ind.; Prof. Charles M. Thomas, Superintendent of Schools, Harrison County, Ind., and Rev. B. Wilson Smith, Lafayette, Ind. Following is the Board's report:

To the Board of Trustees of the Indiana State Normal School:

GENTLEMEN—The Board of Visitors to the State Normal School at Terre Haute spent some days in the performance of the duties of the Board. The visit was made in the second week of May, 1894, and the President and Faculty placed every opportunity at our disposal to make as thorough an investigation of the condition of the school as the time we could spare for the duty would permit.

In this time, however, the work of each head of a department was inspected and also the greater number of the regular assistants were visited in their classrooms, the Board thus obtaining a somewhat clear idea of the character of the instruction, discipline, and the spirit of the school.

The first thing noted was the large attendance, the records showing at the time of our visit a total enrollment of 1,330 for the year, an increase of 237 over the total enrollment of the preceding year, and a term enrollment of 1,182, an increase of 255 over the spring term of last year. This large enrollment in the face of the widespread financial depression which has so generally affected in an unfavorable manner the attendance upon educational institutions of all kinds speaks volumes in favor of the confidence in which the management of the school is held throughout the State. It is also an evidence of the growing disposition of young men and young women to prepare themselves more thoroughly for the profession of teaching.

The general spirit of harmony existing among the officers and teachers and between the teachers and the students is another thing which was clearly manifested to the visitors, and which the Board was especially gratified to observe, and which they take great pleasure in bringing to your notice.

The large and increasing attendance upon the school makes it imperatively necessary that additional room be provided for the school, and to this end we recommend the completion of the extension already under cover at as early a date as is practicable, by all means before the next spring term shall task with still greater numbers the capacity of the building already overcrowded. However strong a faculty may be, and however willing a student may be, there is a limit to the number that can be crowded into a class-room, and a limit where the teaching force of a teacher begins to fail to give satisfactory results. In this connection the Board of Visitors would recommend the early purchase of additional ground to provide for additions to the laboratory facilities of the school.

In the visits to the class-room the Board were especially pleased with the high character of the instruction given; its philosophical methods; its devotion to truth; its evidence of thorough knowledge of the subject upon the part of the teacher; its spirit of kindness and gentleness, and the skill displayed in leading out the pupil to think and answer for himself. The spirit evinced by the students was also another matter which profoundly impressed the Board. The students were there for work, seemingly no laggards among their number, or if any so few as to escape the notice of the visitors. An eminent educator once said that if a young man were to spend four years in a good college and never make a recitation himself he would leave school at the end of that time fairly well educated simply from the contact with his fellow students. This no doubt is a very strong statement of the influence of students upon each other, and yet the influence for good that a large, earnest body of students exert upon each other can hardly be overestimated.

It is not desirable that we should go into the work of the different departments in detail. There were differences manifested, but it can be very truthfully said that the work of the school as a whole is as good as can be justly expected from the faculty with the means at their command.

It is recommended that more regular teachers be provided for the school, by this means avoiding the employment of such a large number of temporary assistants during the spring term. To do this will require an additional annual appropriation for tuition purposes of not less than $10,000. Means should be put into your hands sufficient not only to employ an additional number of regular teachers, but also to pay salaries to the whole teaching force equal to the salaries paid in the other State educational institutions. He who teaches the teachers of the State most certainly should not be paid less than the teacher who teaches the ordinary college student.

The library, as one of the most important departments of the school, appeared to the Board as being in as good condition as is possible in its present cramped quarters. The general arrangement reflects much credit upon the librarian, and the number of students at work therein at the time of our visit shows that it is used in the preparation of lessons to a very great extent, but that it may become what it should be, a great, intellectual workshop of the school, it should be gotten into its new quarters as soon as possible. More books should be added as soon as space can be found in which they can be used. The needs of the library add additional urgency to the demand for the completion of the extension to the buildings.

In conclusion we would say that the visit was one of great pleasure to all the members of the Board, affording us, as it did, an opportunity of becoming better acquainted with the working of a great educational institution, and the Board are unanimous in feeling that the institution is enjoying a high degree of prosperity, and that they are fully warranted in commending the management of the school, and in congratulating the State upon the fact that in its school for teachers so high a standard of scholarship and character is set up and maintained that the school is a professional school for teachers in fact as well as in name.

Respectfully submitted,

JUSTIN N. STUDY,
B. WILSON SMITH,
CHAS. W. THOMAS,
